JUDGE THOMAS WESTON

Chairman Selective Service Local Board No. 112

It is an interesting fact that when a Selective Service registrant in the 20 year old class receives his questionnaire from the draft board, he usually fills it out and returns it promptly, and as promptly enlists without waiting to be called, according to Judge Thomas Weston, chairman of Selective Service, Local Board No. 112. Up to the present time the board has sent only 3 boys of this class into the service by way of induction while 156 have enlisted voluntarily.

In October, 1940, Judge Weston was appointed chairman of Board 112. It is the largest of the 3 boards in Newton, having registered approximately 40 per cent more selectees than the other two. Board 112 has jurisdiction over Wards 1, 2 and 3. It meets every Monday and Thursday evenings, and last winter and early spring it met 3 nights a week. Many hours of examination of questionnaires are spent in between the regular meetings and of his time Judge Weston gives generously.

Thomas Weston was born in Newton Aug. 12, 1875, the son of Thomas Weston and Ellen S. (Childs) Weston. He attended Newton public schools, graduating from Newton High in 1891. He graduated from Harvard, A.B., 1895. For a year, after leaving Harvard, he taught at Mitchell's Boys' School in Billerica and then entered Harvard Law, graduating in 1899 with an LL.B. degree.

He then began to practice law with his father under the name of Weston and Weston, with offices at 42 Court st., Boston. It is interesting to note in passing that this was the same office occupied by Rufus Choate during the last 10 years of Choate's life. Judge Weston served Newton as alderman from 1904 to 1909 and was president of the Board in 1908 and 1909. During the latter 2 years, he was also ex-officio member of the school committee.

On May 22, 1909, he married Elizabeth Leving of Newton Centre and moved to West Newton, where the Westons now reside. Judge Weston was elected to the House of Representatives in 1915 and served there through 1918. He was elected to the State Senate for the years 1919 and 1920. In 1921 he was appointed Associate Judge of the Newton District Court by Governor Cox. He retired as judge on June 15, 1942 to resume active practice of law. His office is at 84 State st., Boston.

The Westons have 3 daughters, Eleanor, 27, a Vassar graduate, married John P. Danforth and lives in New York City; Elizabeth, 25, also a graduate of Vassar, married Russell Maycock and lives in Baton Rouge, Louisiana; Thalia, 19, is a sophomore at Vassar.

Judge Weston has been for many years a trustee and treasurer of the Newton Library, is a trustee and member of the Board of Investment, West Newton Savings Bank. He was one of the organizers of the Newton National Bank in 1929 and was president of the bank for 10 years and is now on the executive committee and Chairman of the Board.

He is a member of the Second Congregational Church, West Newton, and a deacon of the church.

Judge Weston is a member of the Neighborhood Club of West Newton, the Appalachian Mountain Club and the Alpine Club of Canada. He summers in South Duxbury, where he spends his time sailing and growing vegetables in his garden, of which he is justly proud. Judge Weston does not feel he has entirely completed his duty when a group of selectees has been inducted by his board. He follows through by being on hand at City Hall when the boys actually depart for service to wish them luck and bid them good-bye.

Newton Home Building Reached High Peak

Second Highest Volume Level Last Year for Past 12 Years; Facts Given

Newton home building last year reached the second highest volume level in twelve years, according to D. E. Ryan, vice-president of Investors Syndicate, at Minneapolis. There were 19,064 dwelling units in Newton on January 1, 1942. Of these 3,199, or only 16.8 per cent, figures made available by Investors Syndicate indicate, were built between January 1, 1931 and January 1, 1942.

"Newton," said Mr. Ryan, in commenting on home building in 28 Massachusetts cities, "provided new homes in 1941 for 1,532 people, a rise of 24, or 1.5 per cent, above 1940, when new homes were built for 1,568 persons. Last year new housing was provided for 208 more persons (15 per cent) than the 1,844 total in 1930.

"Population in Newton, according to the 1940 Census, latest available official figure, was 69,873. From 1931 to 1941, inclusive, homes put up in Newton furnished new housing for 12,796 people. "Our company's housing survey of 310 cities, containing about 38 per cent of the nation's population shows last year's home construction in Newton ranked fourth in Massachusetts.

Second in 11 Year Volume
"Newton ranked second in Massachusetts in number of homes built from 1931 to 1941, inclusive."

The Investors Syndicate survey shows new homes put up in 1941 represented 12.4 per cent of total residence construction in Newton in the eleven year period. Volume peak of 1,624 came in 1936, while the low was in 1932, when only 396 people were furnished with new shelter.

Valuations Rise in Year
"Homes built in Newton last year were valued at $2,268,650, a rise of $29,300, or 1.3 per cent, over the 1940 level of $2,239,350. New home expenditures in 1941 were $1,397,750, or 38.1 per cent, lower than the 1930 total of $3,666,400. From 1931 to 1941, inclusive, such valuations aggregated $23,498,775. The 1941 new home valuations held third place in Massachusetts; their position for the 1931-1941 period was second.

"Last year's valuations constitute 9.7 per cent of new home values created in the 1931-1941 period. Peak of new home values, $3,666,400, was reached in 1930, while the low, $845,000, was hit in 1932.

"Average per-person new residential cost in Newton in 1941 was $1,425.03, a drop of $4.12, or three-tenths of one per cent, from the 1940 level of $1,429.15. Such cost last year was $1,224.10, or 46.2 per cent, lower than the 1930 average of $2,649.13. Cost of new housing per-person for the 1931-1941 period averaged $1,836.42.

"Newton's 1941 per-person new home cost and the eleven year average held second place in Massachusetts.

"The cost peak, $2,649.13, was reached in 1930, while the low, $1,425.03, was hit in 1941."

Window Stickers Bearing Official OCD Insignia to Be Given Qualified Homes

Window stickers bearing official OCD insignia and the inscription "This Is A V Home" have been prepared to give official recognition to those persons and organizations who have made a serious and thorough effort to prepare for air raid and other emergencies.

These will be presented by the local Air Raid Wardens to homes, apartments and rooming houses within their territory which upon inspection reveal a satisfactory set-up of precautions for air raid blackout and dim-out, in areas where it is required.

Inspections of homes for the purpose of awarding these stickers will, of course, be subject to the consent of the owner or occupant and wherever possible should be conducted in the presence of the head of the household.

On the back of the sticker five requirements are listed but the Air Raid Wardens' inspection will concern itself only with the first which has to do with air raid precautions. The other four requirements are personal, patriotic efforts of the householder with which the Wardens will not directly concern themselves.

The insignia reads as follows: THIS IS A V HOME!

We know this war will be easy to lose and hard to win. We mean to win it. Therefore we solemnly pledge all our energies and all our resources to the fight for freedom and against fascism. We serve notice to all that we are personally carrying the fight to the enemy, in these ways:

I. This home follows the instructions of its air raid warden, in order to protect itself against attack by air.

II. This home conserves food,

From the Newton Committee On Public Safety

The following notice has been issued from the Newton Committee on Public Safety: To All Newton Merchants—It has come to our attention that Newton business men have been solicited for advertising to finance the publication of Air Raid Instructions for Newton citizens.

Such instructions are entirely unofficial and very likely to be inaccurate. The only official information for this city emanates from the Newton Committee on Public Safety, who receives its authority from the state and the national Office of Civilian Defense.

The committee is ever solicited by our committee and we cannot urge too strongly that you help us to discourage any attempt on the part of an individual or business concern to capitalize on the national emergency.

John M. Bierer, Chairman, Newton Com. on Public Safety

Doctor, Born In Newton, Hailed As Wasp Hero

Commander Bartholomew W. Hogan, Medical Corps, U. S. Navy, son of Mr. Thomas F. Hogan of 12 Allen place, West Newton, who was on the U. S. Air-Carrier Wasp, received high praise from Captain Forest P. Sherman, for his treatment of the wounded while under disregard for his own personal safety when he worked for 48 hours without rest or sleep.

Commander Hogan was born in West Newton 41 years ago. He was graduated from Boston College in 1921; received his medical degree from Tufts College four years later, and on graduation entered the Naval service as a lieutenant junior grade. In 1930 he was promoted to a lieutenant; lieutenant commander in 1938, and became a commander a year ago.

His service includes duty at the Chelsea, Washington and Philadelphia naval hospitals, with the Hospital Ship Relief, and aboard the carrier Wasp.

In 1933 he married Miss Grace Glendon, daughter of Dr. W. D. They have two children, Bart T. and Thomas.

clothing, transportation, and health, in order to hasten an unceasing flow of war materials to our men at the front.

III. This home salvages essential materials, in order that they may be converted to immediate war uses.

IV. This home refuses to spread rumors designed to divide our Nation.

V. This home buys War Savings Stamps and Bonds regularly.

We are doing these things because we know we must to Win This War.

Another sticker is being prepared for issue to commercial establishments where fewer than 100 persons are employed, such as shops, restaurants, bakeries, schools, churches, etc. These stickers also bear the official OCD insignia and the inscription "AIR RAID PRECAUTIONS HAVE BEEN TAKEN HERE" and will be issued by the Wardens after inspection of the premises with the consent and preferably in the presence of the owner.

In the cases of large industrial plants and commercial establishments which employ and/or house more than 100 persons, a program of awards for proficiency is being developed and will be announced shortly.

It is hoped that this program of official recognition of ARP defense efforts will stimulate greater interest and more satisfactory results among those who have not yet set up complete precautions for Air Raid Defense.

PUBLIC HEALTH DIRECTOR IS ATTENDING CONVENTION

Dr. Ernest M. Morris, Director of Public Health in Newton, is attending the convention of the American Public Health Association at St. Louis, Mo. While there, Dr. Morris received the certificate awarded to the City of Newton in the National Health Conservation Contest for 1941. Newton was one of the sixteen leading cities in the country in health conservation.

The health conservation contests are held under the joint auspices of the American Public Health Association and the United States Chamber of Commerce. The Newton Chamber of Commerce has received a plaque in recognition of the city's standing in the 1941 contest.

Newton Legalizes All Liquor Sales

All-Out "Yes" Vote On All Three License Questions

The all-out "Yes" vote which prevailed in this city at the election on Tuesday on the three license questions will make the sale of all alcoholic beverages again legal. It is six years since Newton voted in this manner. Three years after repeal, the voters of Newton outlawed the sale of hard liquor except in package goods stores by voting "No" on Question No. 1 on the ballot, but voted in favor of the other two liquor questions. At the two succeeding state elections the stand of Newton voters on the three questions remained the same.

The vote on Tuesday will allow the clubs and drug stores to resume the sale of all alcoholic beverages. They were particularly hard hit by the vote in 1936 which abolished the serving of hard liquor at clubs and the sale of it in drug stores except on the prescription of a physician.

The license board will hold a meeting in the near future to receive applications for licenses which may be applied for under the new law.

Governor Saltonstall received his usual large vote from his home city, polling 21,024 votes against 7,380 for his opponent, although the total vote received by both Republican and Democratic candidates was less than in the election two years ago, as only about 70 per cent of the voters appeared at the polls on Tuesday.

Senator Lodge's defeat over Casey was less than a 2 to 1 victory, Lodge polling 18,147 votes to his opponent's 9,806.

All other Republican candidates received heavy votes in Newton. Benjamin Bowen, candidate for the State Senate from Middlesex and Suffolk District, who will succeed Senator Arthur W. Hollis, carried the city by nearly a three to one vote, polling 19,258 votes while his opponent, Thomas E. Morahan, received 7,196 votes. In the contest for Congressman from the 10th Congressional District, Christian A. Herter also received an excellent vote in Newton.

Representatives George E. Rawson and Loomis Patrick of the 4th Middlesex District and Representatives Margaret Spear and Douglass B. Francis of the 5th Middlesex District, all unopposed, were re-elected.

The majority of Newton voters were in favor of the Birth Control question, the vote being "Yes," 14,515, and "No," 11,333. The measure, however, was defeated by a total vote of the State.

On the pari-mutuel questions, Newton voted heavily in favor of the horse racing and against dog racing.

The "Democratic World Government" was also voted on favorably in Newton.

Following are results of the vote in Newton:

Governor Putnam, D. 7,380 Saltonstall, R. 21,024

Lieutenant Governor Cahill, R. 20,431 Carr, D. 7,537

Secretary Buckley, D. 7,820 Cook, R. 19,716

To The Citizens Of Newton

The week of November 8th to 15th will be observed as "Safety Week" in our City. Newton has had an outstanding safety record for the last two years, and has twice taken first prize among the cities of its class. It is again leading this year for the first nine months period. We want to preserve this record, and make our streets even safer for all.

We are now concerned by reason of near-serious accidents to pedestrians and bicyclists. Present conditions make it necessary to watch this phase of the traffic problem very carefully, and we need the cooperation of everyone to prevent accidents and serious injuries. Your help and assistance will be very much appreciated and I am sure the Newton Safety Council can count upon your wholehearted support.

Paul M. Goddard, Mayor.

Rev. Dr. Merrill To Resign Jan. 1

Rev. Dr. Boynton Merrill, who for the past fifteen years has served as minister of the Second Church in Newton, West Newton, has announced his resignation as of January 1, 1943, to become minister of the First Congregational Church in Columbus, Ohio.

Dr. Merrill served as associate minister with Dr. George A. Gordon at the Old South Church, Boston, for seven years before coming to Newton. During his pastorate at the Second Church he has nearly doubled the membership and more than $100,000 has been spent in additions to the church property, which included a modern structure for the church school and a children's chapel.

Dr. Merrill is a trustee of Wellesley College and of the Northfield School and has been a lecturer at the Anderson Newton Theological School and Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge. He is the author of several religious books and editor of this year's compilation of "Prayers in War-time" for the Congregational Christian Commission on Evangelism.

SURVIVOR OF WASP HOME ON FURLOUGH

Lieut. (jg) Mervin Allen, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Mervin Allen of 19 Birch Hill rd., Newtonville, who was one of the survivors of the sinking of the U. S. Air-carrier Wasp, has arrived home on a furlough.

"Jerry," as he was known while captain of the track team at Newton High School, was graduated from Newton High in 1938 and attended Duke University for two years before joining the Naval Aviation Forces as a cadet. He was commissioned at Miami, Florida, and was assigned to the Wasp in June of this year. As pilot of a torpedo plane he took part in the engagements in the Solomons.

Although he spent an hour in the water and another hour and a half on a life raft before being taken aboard a rescue ship, Lieut. Allen escaped injury.

When he reached San Diego, Lieut. Allen was informed by the wife of a Naval officer of the recent arrival of J. Mervin Allen, 3rd, who was born at the Newton Hospital on September 26, eleven days after the sinking of the Wasp. Mrs. Allen, the former Aldith Sutton, has been residing with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Sutton of 31 Westbourne rd., Newton Centre, while her husband was away on duty.

They were married on October 5, 1941.

Safety Week To Be Held Here November 8 to 15

To Be Conducted Under Direction of Police Dept. and Safety Council

The decrease in traffic through gasoline rationing and the need to conserve tires has brought about a decrease in automobile accidents, but not a corresponding decrease in pedestrian accidents, according to the Newton Safety Council. The victims are largely adults, and oftentimes bystanders have noted them to have stepped off the curb in the path of oncoming vehicles without any attention to the nearness of the traffic, with even a cursory glance.

It has been suggested that this is due to a mental "blackout," a preoccupation caused by the war and its attendant difficulties since a similar phenomenon was observed during the depression. It is necessary that people be impressed with the necessity of caution, of careful attention to approaching cars and the need to give themselves the benefit of the doubt if they question their ability to "beat the car." Recently two women were injured in Newton when they crossed the street on the "walk" signal. A car, traveling more rapidly than it should have, was unable to stop and struck them. They were frank to admit they stepped out on the signal with never a glance to right or left.

As winter approaches, twilight sets in earlier. More people are now finding it necessary to walk after dark. Wherever sidewalks are located, they should always be used. It is fair neither to the pedestrian nor to the motorist to walk in the street if it can be avoided. If it cannot be avoided, the pedestrian should carry a flashlight and wear something light. He should also walk toward oncoming traffic so that no car approaching from behind him can take him unawares. He should protect himself, not count on the driver to do it for him. Anyone easily confused by headlights had better plan to stay home.

Bicycle traffic has made a great problem. The children are very little worse than their parents if at all. No one should ride at night without flashlight and tail light. He should at all times observe the normal traffic rules remembering that his vehicle affords him no protection whatsoever. He should not cross the road at random, nor should he risk someone else's life and limb by carrying him on the handlebars or carrier. This latter habit is highly dangerous and will be checked particularly by the police during the coming Safety Week. Improper condition of a bicycle is also an added accident hazard.

Riders who are stopped by the police will be given a folder outlining the rules and regulations that must be observed by all bicycle riders; their names taken and their parents notified.

For the last two successive years Newton has been awarded a safety award which has now become our permanent property. This is for the lowest accident rate for a city of its size in the State. To date this year we have had 276 injuries, and 3 fatalities. There have been 201 non-fatal collisions.

Let every man, woman and child on the home front do his or her part by helping to conserve life. Don't "black-out," and obey the traffic laws.

IS CHAIRMAN OF EXHIBIT AND TEA
Miss Elizabeth G. Hooper, daughter of Mrs. William E. Hooper of Waban, and president of the Jackson College All-Around Club, is chairman of the Jackson activities exhibit and tea, which will highlight the program of annual Homecoming Day at Tufts next Saturday, November 7.

The program, featuring hockey, tennis, horseback riding, basketball, and golf in mimetics, selections by the Jackson Glee Club, and exhibits of department and special clubs will be displayed, at Cousens Gymnasium as main events of the program.

Miss Hooper will be assisted in arrangements for the tea, which is expected to be attended by hundreds of returning alumnae and parents of Jackson students, by a committee comprising all-round club officers and representatives. Faculty residents of Jackson College women's department of Tufts, will pour.

A member of the January 1943 graduating class, Miss Hooper is active in many Jackson undergraduate activities, and has recently been nominated for inclusion in "Who's Who among students in American Universities and Colleges." She is stewardess of the Lambert-Kingsley Society, honorary biology society, and after her graduation will enter Tufts Medical School.

Special Emphasis Being Placed On Salvation Army's Appeal In Newton

Special emphasis is being placed on the Salvation Army's 1942 appeal in Newton which has $6,000 as its goal, on the handing or mailing of contributions to the campaign treasurer, who is William M. Cahill, official of the Newton Trust Company, 93 Union st., Newton Centre. According to the campaign sponsors this would be considered a kindly gesture because of the fact that there is a shortage of man power due to war program and other important matters that needs the immediate attention of men formerly engaged in house to house and office to office contact.

This foregoing plan has the approval of State Representative Douglass B. Francis, chairman of the sponsoring group for another campaign.

Newton was represented at the Greater Boston appeal's final report meeting at the Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday, when Jay R. Benton, chairman of the Metropolitan Division, which includes Newton, made report on monies collected and what is anticipated in appeals not completed or even started.

Many friends of The Salvation Army in Newton will be in Boston next Thursday for programs that have to do with the visit of General and Mrs. George L. Carpenter, international leaders of that organization to this country. Their welcome to New England will be on Wednesday evening.

No Oil Coupons Until November 11

The Newton War Price and Rationing Board has announced that the coupons for fuel oil and kerosene which were to have been distributed on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, of this week will not be available until after November 11. More definite notice of the dates on which they will be distributed will be announced later.

Recent Events

The Auburndale Review Club

The regular meeting of the Auburndale Review Club was held Tuesday morning, Nov. 3rd, at Mrs. Wilson's home, 41 Aspen ave. It is very fitting since the club is studying China, that it should adopt a Chinese orphan for the coming year. The president, Mrs. Amesbury, suggested that the necessary twenty dollars be raised by voluntary contribution. The collection taken went "over the top" to the satisfaction of everyone, and the money will soon be on its way to care for one of China's "little ones."

The program of the morning was in charge of Miss Cora MacKenzie who first read her paper on "Clippers Ships" which played an important part in opening up trade with China.

Mrs. Ufford followed with "Villages in China" giving a graphic description of the way people live in these villages.

The third paper was given by Mrs. Blom who gave an interesting facts about silk culture and tea raising—the two great industries of China.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club
Plans for making and filling Christmas bags for disabled War Veterans were made at the meeting of the Newton Upper Falls Women's Club, Monday evening, November 2.

Mrs. Donald F. Flinchbaugh, the president, was in charge of business meeting. The subject of Mr. Samuel Thack's address, Mr. Tyack of Shreve, Crump & Low told most interestingly the story of the formation, mining and cutting of diamonds, emeralds, rubies and zircons.

—Mrs. Anthony Arduino was the hostess for the evening and refreshments were in charge of Mrs. Raymond Capobianco.

MANPOWER TO WIN

The American people have begun to realize that the war may be won or lost by the way we allocate our vital resources; and among these is our manpower.

The Army, led by its crack training school at Fort Washington, Maryland, is making great strides to insure that each man is placed where he can do his best job. We need the same intelligent approach to the problem nationally.

To place a man in his post of highest national usefulness we must go deeper than reorganization. His value to the community must be considered. The business man who can run his office or plant smoothly and give his partners and employees a strong esprit de corps; the labor leader who raises the fighting teamwork of his men and cures strike situations by his attitude to the bosses; the rank-and-file worker who can keep up the spirit of his mates and heighten production, too; and the mother whose children are trained in the straight, disciplined living which is the bedrock of our national character—these are skilled workers producing the armament America needs most.

As we help our community to recognize these qualities we will be helping our draft boards to make the wisest decisions.

It is a far-seeing and courageous nation that decides such issues clearly. For in the emotion and strain of war, it is easy to be engulfed in the materialism that says that dollars and machines will do it. In the modern war that nation will win which makes the best use of its total resources. We must mobilize our strength for the home-front as well as for the battlefield. For we cannot win on one without the other.

That is why the mobilization and assignment of manpower is one of the greatest issues before America today. Upon it hangs triumph or disaster.

MAKE HALLOWE'EN PARTIES PERMANENT

The Recreation Department's enterprise in successfully carrying out two hundred Halloween parties for Newton children of varying ages is of more than passing interest. Last Saturday evening over nine thousand children were entertained at these parties in the numerous sections of the city. Although the parties were held under the auspices of the Newton Recreation Department, numerous organizations and many individuals contributed their efforts and assistance in carrying out the plan. We are informed that the introduction of this type of Halloween entertainment into the City of Newton was upon the suggestion and untiring efforts of Alderman Theodore Lockwood of Ward 7, who had known of successful efforts in this direction in the Middle West.

A marked reduction in vandalism, false alarms, and other usual Halloween activities of an even more destructive nature was evident.

In some thirteen countries people are shaking with fear or are cramped by hunger. Here we are still shaking cocktails and our cramps, if any, come from over-eating.

Election Results

Hearty congratulations to Governor Leverett Saltonstall, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge and the other winners in Tuesday's exciting election. Especially gratifying to Newton voters was the truly remarkable victory of our own Senator-elect Theodore Lockwood. Incidentally, my warm congratulations to our charming First Lady of Massachusetts. No one knows better than the Governor what a tremendous source of strength she has always been to him. What cheering news this great victory must have been to the Governor's two sons, now fighting for Uncle Sam—one of them overseas; and also to their modest, but efficient daughter, likewise serving her country in the new women's army.

Inasmuch as complete returns are not yet available, this column is being written, my readers are requested to be lenient in their attitude toward such figures as I may use. At the moment, the Governor appears to have a lead of something over 129,000 votes. None of his most ardent admirers would have dared hope for such a tremendous victory, especially when Tuesday turned out rainy and cold. It was really a Democratic day. What happened, therefore, to the Governor's admitted opponent, Mayor Rogers L. Putnam of Springfield? Simply this, as I view the situation. The Governor has so thoroughly sold himself to the people of Massachusetts during the past two decades, and particularly during the last four years, that the average voter saw no good reason for retiring him to private life for the benefit of a new and untried man in state affairs. As a war Governor he was tops, as even our President would testify. If, as a man in a position to do so, as a man of high character and unquestioned integrity, he was a splendid advertisement of Massachusetts throughout the country. Remember that Saturday Evening Post article, which merely stated that Governor Saltonstall was "the best of the Democratic candidates poked fun at the Governor and suggested that it might be wise for him to get himself elected Governor again before getting steamrolled about being President! Let's not forget that the Governor himself would be the last man on earth to start a boom for himself for any office, large or small. Perhaps even the most partisan Democrats will now admit that His Excellency's friends have gained an unusually considerate such qualifications as he may possess for higher office. "Nuf ced."

In the last analysis, it is not true that Putnam's supporters were woefully lacking in real issues? What did they have to say about the balloting in being carried out? That appears to be a moral, religious or sociological issue; not a political or governmental issue. Had it not been injected into the campaign as a desperate play for votes, the Governor might have gained an even more notable triumph. What else did Putnam have? He charged the Governor with rank insincerity—a charge which doubtless irritated the independent voters very much. What ever faults our Chief Executive may have, insincerity is most certainly not one of them. Other charges were equally unimpressive.

A word as to Putnam. One of the most damaging blows to his cause was the devastating cartoon in the Boston Herald on the morning of election. It depicted Putnam, dressed as Lord Fountleroy, gazing up at the State House, with Curlew on one side, explaining that the building in front of them was the State House and Concord, on the other side, assuring Putnam that he would take care of everything for him! It was wicked. It must have cost Putnam thousands upon thousands of votes.

As anticipated, Senator Lodge was badly hurt in many quarters as he consistently trailed Governor Saltonstall. Despite this, he appears to have a margin of substantially 80,000 votes, with less than 100 precincts not counted. What he lost in Concord, he gained back from the Democrats, who have always treated him rather handsomely. This is due to a variety of causes, including his constant concern for labor, his personally democratic attitude and his frequent agreement with our Senator-elect, Hon. David L. Walsh in legislative matters. Never forget, also, that Lodge's grandfather was very kind and helpful to our Senator when he first arrived in Washington. Again, Senator Lodge's military record proved to be helpful despite Casey's desperate efforts to paint it as a "Cook's Tour of Libya." Then, too, Casey failed to receive any substantial assistance from Senator Walsh, even as Putnam failed, up to the eleventh hour, to get the help from the indiscreet Frankie Kelly. I suspect that the underground opposition to Putnam on the part of the Kelly forces hurt the Springfield man a great deal.

At the moment, about all that the Democracy appears to have salvaged is the State Auditor, Tim Buckley; possibly they may win the Treasurer's position at Senator Curtis's expense. That is the closest fight of the lot. Much to everybody's surprise, Fred Cook failed to lead the ticket as usual. Could this be because his opponent had the magic name of Buckley? Our own Bob Bushnell made a splendid showing in sweeping Agnew one side; so did Horace Cahill in defeating Mayor Carr of Medford decisively. Altho' Speaker Chris Herter topped Carey for Congress by two to one in Newton and about the same margin in Brookline, he was slowed down in the Boston territory. As a result, he had a lead of only about 5,000 with only 32 precincts out of 160 missing. Councillor Frank A. Brooks of Concord seems to have scored another notable victory and the Council is now in Republican hands. Brooks ran ahead of Senator Lodge, as did all the state ticket, as well as Herter and Senator-elect Bowen. The latter defeated Morahan by nearly three to one in Newton.

Next week I shall comment on the national aspect of the election. The G. O. P. came much closer to winning control of Congress than most Republicans had dared hope.

Letters To The Editor

DEEP APPRECIATION

October 31, 1942.
To the Editor of The Newton Graphic,
Newton, Mass.

Dear Sir:
May I express deep appreciation to you for your liberal assistance in connection with the Community Halloween Parties recently operated under the auspices of our Recreation Department in Newton. Your support and cooperation in enabling both parents and children to think on what constitutes the best way to spend Halloween in a war time year contributed much.

So may I ask that you be kind enough to express in your columns full appreciation to the many associates and workers who worked tirelessly and with such exceptional capability to bring so much happiness to so many children, in our city in a single evening.

Let us remember also that an extended group of friends of Newton children contributed funds which were important in rounding out the evening's success. Many connected with our schools, from Superintendent Julius E. Warrenton down, deserve a profound vote of thanks.

The obvious enjoyment of the children served as liberal payment to the many parents and workers. May we hope that recollections of the evening may widely foster an appreciation that Halloween needs have only happy memories.

Sincerely yours,

THEODORE R. LOCKWOOD,

General Chairman.

TRUCK STOLEN—LATER IS RECOVERED

A truck owned by the Star Market Company of Newtonville, which was parked opposite 205 Homer st., Newton Centre, on Friday afternoon, was stolen while the driver was delivering an order in a nearby house. The theft was reported to the police at 3:30 p.m. and several hours later the truck with all its contents intact, was found on Briarcliff rd., Newton Centre, by Patrolmen Joseph H. Smith and Stephen Madden. As a checkup with the market revealed that none of the contents of the truck had been disturbed it is believed that it was driven off for a joyride.

NOW IS THE TIME TO GIVE TIRED GRASS A FRESH START

Re-vitalize "summer weary" grass with a fall application of Milorganite. Unlike most plants, grass grows vigorously in the fall . . . provided dwindling soil fertility is restored by generous feeding. Milorganite is the ideal fertilizer to use because it contains all the elements needed by grass.

Supplied in 25-, 50-, and 100-pound sift-proof bags.

Golf clubs use more Milorganite than any other fertilizer. They know from long experience that it is the ideal fertilizer. Profit by their example. Fertilize with Milorganite this fall for greener, more luxuriant lawns now and NEXT year, too.

Government Now Training Youth

An opportunity for Newton young people to obtain training necessary to fill vital jobs in the war production program will be provided by the National Youth Administration, now a War Manpower Commission Agency, through its Field Personnel Representative Peter N. Stamas.

To meet the urgent demands for trained workers to take their place in the production line of war industry, the National Youth Administration, now under the War Manpower Commission, is operating work training units throughout Greater Boston. These units are established for the express purpose of training young people. In Greater Boston, youths are trained under production methods, to be machine shop operators, sheetmetal workers, pattern makers, foundry workers, welders, draftsmen, tracers, radio technicians, inspectors, and power stitching machine operators.

Youth trained by the N.Y.A. is in great demand in the vital defense industries. Many youths who have completed the course of training in an N.Y.A. shop, are now doing their share to produce materials which are vital to the manufacture of our necessary war supplies. The average time spent at one of these units is about 8 to 10 weeks. This fact alone shows the demand for N.Y.A. trained workers. It is all the more amazing when one realizes the fact that these are youths who are doing well for the corps of instructors employed by the N.Y.A. Youths employed receive $25.60 per month for a complete month of attendance.

This war production training is available to young men and young women between the ages of sixteen to twenty-five, who are out of school, unemployed and citizens of the U. S., and who are desirous of obtaining work in the various defense industries. Such youths may apply at the nearest N.Y.A. office or at any office of the United States Employment Service. The office of the N.Y.A. for Greater Boston is located at 101 Tremont st., Boston, Room 912.

SARAH J. RAND

Mrs. Sarah Jeannette Rand, widow of Avery Lewis Rand, and for many years a resident of Newton Centre, died on Saturday, October 31, at Belmont.

Mrs. Rand was in her 91st year. She was born in Newton Centre in 1852, the daughter of Bartholomew and Sarah (Burke) Wood. She attended the Newton public schools and was graduated from the Packer Collegiate Institute, Brooklyn, New York, in 1870. Before her marriage in 1874 she taught school in Chestnut Hill and Lebanon, New Hampshire.

She was one of the founders of the New England Deaconess Hospital and served for many years on the board of directors, and was interested in the Medford State Hospital of which she was one of the first members of the board of trustees.

Surviving her are three sons, Avery L. Rand of Miami, Oklahoma; Robert Rand of Belmont and Stuart C. Rand of Boston; three daughters, Miss Margaret Rand, dean of Lasell Junior College of Auburndale, Miss Winifred Rand of the Merrill Palmer School, Detroit, Michigan, and Mrs. Ben E. Lindsy of Philadelphia, also ten grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Newton Cemetery Chapel. Rev. Angus Dun of the Episcopal Theological School of Cambridge officiated. Burial was in the Newton Cemetery.

HOWARD P. WINCHESTER

Howard P. Winchester of 20 Mason rd., Newton Centre, died on Tuesday, November 3, at his home.

Mr. Winchester was in his 48th year. He was born in Boston, the son of Frederick A. and the late Anna Prince, Winchester. He was president of an insurance brokerage business at 101 Milk st., Boston, and was also associated with the firm of Fairfield & Ellis. He was marshal of the St. John's Blue Lodge, A. F. and A. M., and a member of St. Andrew's Chapter, Scottish Rite and Aleppo Temple Shrine.

Surviving him are his wife, Mrs. Nellie (Harvey) Winchester, a daughter, Mrs. Harry Wollard of Newton, his father, and three brothers, William E. and Capt. F. Ellsworth Winchester of Boston, and Reginald Winchester of Newton.

Funeral services will be held at his home on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial will be in Forest Hills Cemetery.

LIEUT. JAMES C. CATON

Funeral services for Lieut. Jas. E. Caton, U.S.A., son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Caton of 924 Watertown st., West Newton, were held on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Waterman Chapel, 495 Commonwealth ave., Boston.

Lieut. Caton, who was 27 years of age, was killed in a tank accident at Fort Knox, Kentucky. He had been married three weeks before to Miss Vesta Ewing Beach of Houston, Texas while on a furlough after receiving his commission.

He was a graduate of the Newton High School where he had been prominent in athletics. Before enlisting in the Army in 1940 he had been employed by the Suffolk Savings Bank of Boston.

Newton Comeback Defeats Watertown

Newton High School scored 2 touchdowns and a conversion in the last four minutes of play and maintained its undefeated record last Saturday when it defeated Watertown 13-12 before 5000 spectators at Dickinson Stadium.

The comeback was the fourth staged by the Victor Knapman coached aggregation this season and put its record at four wins and two ties in its six starts.

Harold Martin accounted for the crucial single point margin in the last minute of the game.

A 31-yard pass from Johnny Reo to Captain Lennie Morrissey, and a 23-yard pass from Dick Kiley to Bob O'Connell accounted for two touchdowns.

Next Saturday, Newton plays Fitchburg at Fitchburg, which team tied Brookline 7 to 7 last week.

Little Business' Right To Live

The home building industry, existing in many local units of the country, is typical of "little business" elements of the American way of life. Northeastern Homes Foundation points out in emphasizing the vital importance of all little business in the home front of the war effort.

"In Washington, the war leaders and Congress have lately been giving consideration to the ability of manufacturing plants to convert to the production of war materials," Paul S. Collier, Foundation Director, states. "In England, such conversion has been done with great success. Our own Government has moved slowly in this direction, because of the habit of peacetime reliance on mass production in large scattered centers of big industry. Wartime expansion of these centers has resulted in manpower and housing congestion, and transportation congestion, and other areas yet suffer unemployment, for filling vacancies, empty highways and railroad yards, and idle tools.

"England has been particularly successful in utilizing the local units of its building industry to produce wood war materials. There it is common to find one carpenter in a small shop working on wood parts for airplanes. Here, in contrast, we have even had mass production of prefabricated metal grain bins in congested industrial centers, while the power tools of retail lumber dealers in farm areas, stood idle. They could make Army truck body parts, work benches, and other items as well as grain bins, including wood plane parts. War industry housing, essential farm buildings—thousands of local lumbermen are equipped to swell the war effort in these and other sectors of the home front.

"This is a specific example on an issue which, with more general application, was powerfully stated in a recent press editorial as follows: "Little business has the right to live, if ways can be found for keeping it alive, and this though the value of the military assets it produces no more than balance the cost of keeping it going. . . Little business has a cause. Its life is at stake. It is anxious to engage in the war program. Whether it can be put to work on the home front, or in the larger plants is a question of priorities over materials that would be necessary to the conversion. But questions of priority are logically outside the range of consideration by military procurement officers. Their true function is to pass sentence on the life of little business.

"It should be noted that the editor was considering small metal-using industries. In contributing to war construction with wood, the local lumberman would not need to convert his production tools. He is ready right now for the job."

Educational Division Of United War Fund In Pre-Campaign Program

Along with representatives in 48 other communities which will participate in the Greater Boston United War Fund, Newton members of the Educational Division under the chairmanship of Mrs. Mortimer M. Prescott, have already launched their intensive pre-campaign program to acquaint the people of the community with all-time and wartime social-service needs.

The Newton Speakers' Bureau, headed by Mrs. Robert R. Bishop, is arranging speaking engagements to present the Fund's appeal to Newton clubs, organizations and church groups.

The public in the thirteen villages included in the Newton area will hear social-service information of vital significance to the community. For example, the Newton District Nursing Association, the Newton Dept. of Public Health, the Newton Y.M.C.A. etc.

The war-service organizations in the United War Fund are the USO, the USO-Greater Boston Soldiers and Sailors Committee, the United Nations War Relief and War Prisoners Aid.

Serving as speakers are the Rev. M. Fussell Boynton, Mrs. Ethel G. Braham, Mrs. W. C. Greene, Mr. Alex Brin, Mr. Samuel C. Brown, Mr. Harry C. Dyer, Jr., Mr. C. Dasey, Dr. Carl F. Edli, Mr. James Gallagher, Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, Mr. Albert Hurwitz, Mr. Maynard Hutchinson, Mr. Aaron M. Jones, Mrs. Felix Knauth, Miss Gertrude MacCallum, Mr. Charles Meeker, Miss Hilga S. Nelson, Mr. Edward J. Pease, Mr. Roger Preston, Mrs. W. V. Tripp, Jr., Mrs. Theron B. Walker and Mrs. Philip L. Warren.

United Canvass Com. To Meet With Ministers

Dinner Meeting to Be Held at the Baptist Church, Newton Cen., Nov. 11

Newton ministers and the financial chairmen of their respective churches are to meet with members of the Newton United Church Canvass Committee at The First Baptist Church in Newton, corner of Beacon and Center sts., in Newton Centre on Wednesday, Nov. 11, at 6:30 p. m. Dr. Charles N. Arbuckle, pastor of the church, has invited his associates in the Newton Ministers' Association and their financial chairmen and the Canvass Committee to meet in his church for a dinner meeting. Arrangements for the meeting are in the hands of John J. Fogg of the same church.

Edmund S. Whitten, General Chairman of the 1942 Newton United Church Canvass; Charles E. Downing, Publicity Chairman, and other members of the Executive Committee will present the details of the canvass and the publicity plans to the Newton ministers and their financial chairmen. This second United Church Canvass will be conducted throughout Newton on Sunday, Dec. 6.

In addition to the ministers and financial chairmen of over 30 Newton churches, the following members of the United Church Canvass Committee will be present—Mayor Paul M. Goddard, Honorary Chairman; Edmund S. Whitten, General Chairman; F. M. Morris, Vice Chairman; R. F. Bass, Secretary; R. H. Wright, Treasurer; and E. M. Brooks, J. J. Fogg, W. A. Jackson, H. E. Locke, E. J. Pease, W. B. Warren and K. A. Woodruff also of the Executive Committee. Rev. W. H. Shillington, President of the Newton Ministers' Association, is also a member of the Executive Committee.

Christmas Gifts For Members Of Eliot Men's Club in Armed Service

Christmas gifts to all its members now serving in the United States military forces was assured by the generous attendance at the Eliot Church on Friday, October 30th, when Dr. Charles H. Tozier of Winchester, Mass., exhibited his remarkably beautiful collection of technicolor movies of North and South America. Over 400 attended. Dr. Tozier added to the interest of the showing by his own informal comments, and as a lecturer but is a friend of all young men and women serving the country in distant parts of the world, and at home, displaying things of great beauty to be found by the traveler. His experience as a photographer, aided by his knowledge of sciences, entitles him to high regard in his program of entertaining the home folks for the benefit of the young people abroad.

Dr. Tozier has travelled the western hemisphere extensively with the assistance of the government of the different countries he visited, and won the co-operation of the people he visited by his engaging personality and his desire to serve indirectly the acquaintance between widely separated peoples who occupy this part of the world. Other showings of the films are scheduled for the future in communities nearby and will receive the same appreciative response as was evidenced on this occasion.

On Nov. 9th, at its second regular meeting of the season, the feature attraction for the Eliot Men's Club will be the showing of U. S. Government sponsored films in the chapel of Eliot Church, Newton, at eight o'clock. The admission is free to members of the club and their neighbors, without ticket, and a full audience is expected. Lieut. J. W. McQuiston, U.S.S.N., will direct. These are authentic films with the following titles: "The World At War," "The Battle of Midway," "The Menace of the Rising Sun," and "The Invasion of France." Lieut. McQuiston is a resident of Newton, and through official sources has obtained for the benefit of the public pictures of immediate interest which have not yet been widely exhibited.

At six-thirty in the club rooms, supper will be served to members and paying guests at the usual nominal charge. A short business session will follow the supper to keep the membership informed as to current items. The club requests early response for supper tickets which will soon be available.

NEWTON ROTARY CLUB

"World Federation", a proposed democratic type of world government based upon a world constitution similar to our own federal type of American constitutional government—was the subject presented by Harry A. Reynolds at the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Monday. Also present and joining in the forum following the talk was Elizabeth Cady, Secretary, Massachusetts Committee of Federal Union. Mr. Reynolds, labelling his talk "A Challenge to Thought and Action," made a plea for realistic thinking of post-war problems, and expounded the view that, nationally, America must face a choice at that time of isolationism or Free Trade. Other post-war problems forecast by Mr. Reynolds were: "Colonial Empires, be surrendered? Who Will Re-define New National Boundaries? Who Will Give Up What? What Police Power Will Police the Post-War World? Mr. Reynolds forecast a continuance of war for at least five years, and an appalling problem of feeding Europe, caring for refugees for another three or four years thereafter.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts Middlesex, ss. Probate Court.

To all persons interested in the estate of Mary H. Ethier, late of Newton in said County, deceased.

A petition has been presented to said Court for probate of a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said Mary H. Ethier, deceased, by Gladys C. Fuller of Newton in said County, praying that she be appointed executor of her husband's estate, giving a statement of her bond, and that she be allowed to exercise her powers in said Court on her behalf.

If you desire to object thereto you or your attorney should file a written appearance in said Court at Cambridge before ten o'clock in the forenoon on the ninth day of November 1942, the return day of this cause.

Witness, John C. Leggat, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this fourth day of October in the year one thousand nine hundred and forty-two.

ROBERT P. DODD, Register.

Case No. 5028, Misc.

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

Land Court

(SPECIAL)

To Gerald A. Foley, Wilbur D. Foley and Joanne Foley, of Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth, Ashton Realty Company, Thompson-Durkee Company and Gulf Oil Corporation, duly existing corporations, having usual places of business in Boston, in the County of Suffolk and said Commonwealth; Daisy Nichols, of Wellesley, in the County of Norfolk and said Commonwealth; and to all whom it may concern.

Benjamin Kaufman, of Brookline, in said County of Norfolk, has filed with said Court a bill in equity for authority to exercise the power of sale contained in a mortgage of real estate situated in said Newton at the corner of Quinquin Road and York Road, and known as Lot 8, given by Gerald A. Foley to Harry Steelman, dated June 8, 1942, recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds in Book 6602, Page 59, and also recorded with said County Land Registration Office, as Document No. 175354, noted on Certificate of Title No. 42911, and held by the Plaintiff under an assignment dated June 10, 1942, as Document No. 181261, noted on said Certificate No. 42911, and also recorded in Book 6615, Page 123.

If you are entitled to the benefits of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940 and you object to the foreclosure of said mortgage, you or your attorney should file a written appearance and answer in said Court at Boston on or before the seventh day of November 1942, or you may be forever barred from claiming that a foreclosure sale made under such authority is invalid under said act.

WITNESS, JOHN E. FENTON, Esquire, Judge of said Court this third day of November, 1942.

CHARLES A. SOUTHWORTH, Recorder.

In the matter of said bill, the plaintiff is hereby ordered to serve the foregoing notice by publishing the same once in the Newton Graphic a newspaper published in Newton in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth, at least twenty-one days before the said return day; and by mailing by registered mail a copy of said notice not less than 14 days before the return day to each defendant named in said bill; and by recording in the registry of deeds in the district where the real estate lies, a copy of said notice.

WITNESS, JOHN E. FENTON, Esquire, Judge of said Court this third day of November, 1942.

CHARLES A. SOUTHWORTH, Recorder.

THE MANY FRIENDS OF LYSCOM A. BRUCE, formerly Executive Director of the Newton Community Chest and now holding a similar position with the Community Chest of Worcester, will be glad to learn that the Worcester United Campaign, which was completed on October 30, exceeded its goal by $63,000. The goal of the Worcester Campaign was $817,000, and the Campaign organization there raised nearly $870,000.

J. LEO GEARY PROMOTED TO SECOND LIEUTENANT

Word has been received from New Caledonia of the promotion of J. Leo Geary, 140 Waverley ave., Newton to Second Lieutenant in a medical detachment now stationed in this far Pacific island.

Lt. Geary severed his association with the F. A. Hubbard Drug Company of Newton two years ago to enlist as a private in the 180th Field Artillery, at that time located at Camp Edwards, Mass. A short time after his enlistment, due to his special qualifications, Lieutenant Geary was transferred to a medical detachment and sailed for overseas ten months ago.

Lieutenant Geary is a graduate of Newton High School and Boston University, being awarded a degree of Bachelor of Science in Education from B.U. He taught for a short period at the Underwood School, Newton.

While associated with the Hubbard Drug Company, Lieutenant Geary made a host of friends, all of whom will be happy to hear this good news of his well-deserved promotion.

NEWTON SEWING WORK-ROOMS TO BE OPEN ARMISTICE DAY

Mrs. Harry F. Morse, chairman of Production for Newton Red Cross, says that all of the Chapter Branch Workrooms regularly scheduled for Wednesdays will be open as usual on November 11. The many volunteers feel that this year, more than ever, it is fitting that work for the man in the armed forces and for war sufferers should be carried on, on this day which is set aside to honor those who fought in the last war. The workrooms affected are: Auburndale, Methodist Church; Newton Centre, Women's Club; Newton Centre, Temple Emanuel; Newtonville, Women's Club; Waban, Union Church; Newton Upper Falls, 69 Waldorf rd.; Newton Lower Falls, St. Mary's Church.

DR. PAGEL MOVES TO NEWTON

Dr. Manfred Pagel, M.D., recently of London, England, has just moved to 21 Clark st., Newton Centre, with Mrs. Pagel and their 3-year-old son John Ralph.

Dr. Pagel has opened offices in Newton and Boston.

He practised medicine in London and was for some years assistant physician in Municipal Hospitals in Europe.

He received his M.D. degree in Heidelberg and Breslau in 1920 and the degrees of L.R.C.P. and L.R.F.P.S. in Edinburgh in 1937.

Dr. Pagel is the author of several treatises on blood diseases and internal medicine.

Co-Chairmen of the Women's Division of the Newton Committee on Public Safety

MRS. PAUL M. GODDARD

No glamour, no uniforms, no fanfare, no medals, just a lot of work and the satisfaction that comes from doing it well; that's the picture of the Women's Division of the Newton Committee on Public Safety. Under the leadership of Mrs. Paul M. Goddard and Mrs. F. Brittain Kennedy who are co-chairmen of the division, a score of jobs are being done so smoothly and without fuss that most citizens take them for granted. For example, when circulars setting forth instructions on how to apply for fuel ration coupons had to be delivered all over Newton, the Ration Board called the Women's Division for help. The co-chairmen got busy and in no time their organization had the job done.

At present and for the past two months the Salvage Drive has been the main job of the Women's Division. Both Mrs. Goddard and Mrs. Kennedy serve on the Central Salvage Committee of which Mr. John D. Haughey is chairman. No small part of their task is to see that housewives are

Street Work To Be Resumed

Street Commissioner John D. Haughey has announced that work on repaving and resurfacing streets in Newton which was interrupted last May by W. P. B. orders restricting the use of all road building materials will be resumed. Natural asphalt will be used. This material which is imported from Trinidad is more expensive than the manufactured asphalt previously used, but the great need for repairs to streets in various parts of the city will justify its use, according to the belief of city officials.

The natural asphalt is applied over existing surfaces and therefore does not necessitate the digging up of streets before applying a new surface. The material will also be used to repair sidewalks.

The allotment for this work is $15,000, 70 per cent to be used for the purchase of materials and 30 per cent for labor.

The list of streets to be repaired has not as yet been selected by Street Commissioner Haughey.

Newton Red Cross War Fund Campaign In March

The Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross wishes to remind the public that this year, the annual Roll Call Campaign usually held from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving is being omitted.

Instead, Newton will co-operate with the National Red Cross War Fund Campaign which is scheduled for March. This time has been set aside by the President of the United States as Red Cross Month, and the Newton Chapter will make an appeal then for funds to carry on its enlarged communal and war program.

David Cohen Is Installed

At a public installation of Newton Lodge of Odd Fellows at Odd Fellows Hall, West Newton, David Cohen was installed as Noble Grand.

Other officers installed were Arthur Bedford, vice-grand; Charles F. Miller, recording secretary; Burt M. Rich, financial secretary; Ralph L. Fox, treasurer; Roy Akin, warden; Alfred Mouser, conductor; James Seelye, left scene supporter; Archie Wilson, right supporter to noble grand; Ernest F. Dow, left supporter to noble grand; John Marshall, right supporter to vice-grand; Alfred Temperley, left supporter to vice-grand; Ralph Card, chaplain; Charles Edwards, inside guardian; Alfred Mouser, Sr., outside guardian; Everett Forknall, degreemaster of third degree Charles F. Miller, assistant degreemaster.

The installing officers were Deputy Albert R. MacMillan of Loma Lodge of Brookline and his staff. Representatives of Temnyon Rebekah Lodge, Governor Gore Lodge of Waltham and Nonantum Lodge of Allston were present.

At the "Initiates' Anniversary Night", eleven members of Newton Lodge of Odd Fellows observed their initiation anniversaries as follows:

Leonard B. Berry, 1901; Thomas Rae Miller, 1935; Burt M. Rich, 1914; William E. Tomlinson, 1898; Charles P. Edwards, 1914; Charles P. Miller, 1920; William Skelton, 1910; Raymond E. Wells, 1924; Gustaf S. E. Johnson, 1915; August P. Osterlund, 1913; and Chauncey A. Stimets, 1924.

Asks Hospitality For Service Men

Since August of this year, the 32nd Ordnance Company from Ft. Bragg, N. C., has been encamped near Norumbega Park in Auburn, Mass. As this outfit of over 100 men, under the command of Captain Raymond W. Smith, is to be stationed in Newton indefinitely, Mrs. Cecil W. Clark, of the Newton Red Cross Home Service Division, suggests that people who would care to entertain service men in their homes for dinner or supper get in touch with her at the Newton Red Cross Chapter House, Lasell 6000, so that invitations may be extended. Captain Smith will be very glad to make arrangements for the men so that invitations can be accepted from any family in Newton desiring to extend this hospitality.

Junior Red Cross Starts Campaign

Miss Calista Roy, chairman of the Newton Junior Red Cross, announces that the annual membership campaign has started in the schools throughout the community. This year, they are celebrating their twenty-fifth anniversary, for in the fall of 1917 a proclamation issued by President Woodrow Wilson invited educators of the nation to assist in the formation of what has become this country's largest organization of young people. Operating entirely within the schools, the Junior Red Cross is a living tribute to the manner in which educators met the invitation of President Wilson.

In the present war, the Junior Red Cross already has produced more than 3,000,000 comfort and

Applications Far Exceed Expectations

The applications received from students at the Newton High School who wish to take the pre-induction and vocational courses have far exceeded expectations. The facilities of the Trade School are at present insufficient to accommodate the number of applicants for some of the courses, particularly the radio course, and it has been found necessary to set up a waiting list.

Supt. of Schools Julius E. Warren has stated that an effort is being made to divert some of the students from the radio courses, which they chose to other trades for which the number of applicants has not come up to the limit of the available facilities. Otherwise, boys nearest the induction age, will be given the preference. The meeting held at the High School auditorium for the purpose of explaining the details of the new plans to parents was largely attended. Raymond A. Green, Principal of the High School and James M. Forbes, director of the Trade School explained the plans and answered questions regarding same.

Capping of Fifth Nurses' Aide Group

Mrs. Robert W. Moore, Jr., chairman of Nurses' Aide Corps for the Newton Red Cross, says that there were very simple capping exercises on Friday, Nov. 6, for the 34 aides who have just completed their training at the Newton Hospital. Members of this fifth unit are Mrs. Harold Bernkopf, Mrs. William Butler, Mrs. Abner Cohan, Mrs. Kenneth P. Crafts, Mrs. James M. Daly, Mrs. Maurice Dennison, Mrs. Robert C. recreational articles for the Armed Forces and a half-million garments for European refugee children. Its other war-related activities include participation in the victory book campaign, and the training of first aid detachments in schools. Its members share in foreign relief projects of the American Red Cross, and send gift boxes to all parts of the world. Through the Junior Red Cross National Children's Fund, members also have financed children's relief projects in the present war in Great Britain, France, Poland, Greece, Russia and China.

Each school in Newton plans its own campaign, and the children are eager to participate. Some schools held mass meetings, some appealed through the individual classes, while others gave original plays—written and acted by the children.

Stanley Will Aid Community Chest

VINCENT C. STANLEY
Chairman, Industrial Division of Newton Community Chest Campaign

Asserting that those who give to the United War Fund, as well as those who render voluntary service in the Campaign are helping to do their part to win the war, Vincent C. Stanley, president and general manager of the Gamewell Company of Newton Upper Falls, has accepted the Chairmanship of the Industrial Division of the Newton Community Chest. This announcement was made by Neil Leonard, Campaign Chairman of the Newton Community Chest. Through his company, which manufactures fire alarm and police signal system, is engaged in 100 per cent war production for the government and its work has been tremendously accelerated. Mr. Stanley stated he believes that the Community Chest appeal is among the most vital that will come before the people in these momentous times.

In addition to being President of the Gamewell Co., Mr. Stanley is chairman of the Newton Chamber of Commerce. He is also honorary life member of the Indiana Fire Chiefs Association, life member of International Association of Fire Chiefs, Associated member of the New England Fire Chiefs and he is Mass. State Commissioner of Firemen's Relief.

NEWTON AIR RAID WARDENS PLAN MEETING NOVEMBER 17

The air raid wardens in Posts 1, 2, 3, and 4 of Newtonville whose combined areas comprise one-quarter of the area of Newtonville and include more than 60 families, are planning a meeting at the Central Congregational Church Tuesday, Nov. 17 at eight o'clock. Allan Duff, Fred Alexander, Carl S. Crummett, Mrs. J. C. Beale and Leo Noel are in charge of an interesting program.

Mr. Hazlett chose a blue velvet gown. Henry S. Overlock was the best man for his brother and the ushers were E. Allan Small, of Newton Highlands and F. Dwight Newcombe of Woburn.

Mrs. Overlock attended the Medford Schools and Mr. Overlock was graduated from Boston University. They plan to make their home in Newton.

RUGG—SHANLEY

Monday, November 9, in St. Bernard's Rectory, West Newton, Miss Clara G. Shanley of 38 Elm st., West Newton, became the bride of Edwin E. Rugg, P. F. C., son of Mr. and Mrs. Enoch White of Marlboro. The four o'clock ceremony was performed by Rev. Francis P. Sullivan and a reception followed at the Myles Standish Hotel in Boston.

Miss Betty Gardner was the maid of honor and John Macaulay was the best man. The bride, who wore an aqua wool dress and carried white roses, graduated from the Newton High School and the School of Attendance Nursing. Privately, Rugg was graduated from the Marlboro High School and is stationed at Lockbourne Field in Columbus, Ohio, where he and Mrs. Rugg will make their home.

KELLEY—SULLIVAN

Miss Marjorie Sullivan and Lt. (j.g.) Robert Pierce Kelley of Newport, Rhode Island, were married in St. Aidan's Church, Brookline, on Saturday, November 7. Dr. John T. Cragh performed the ceremony. The bride, who wore a gown of ivory satin with a mantilla of Chantilly lace, carried a cascade of lilies and stephanotis. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gerard Sullivan of 1071 Commonwealth ave., Newton. Lt. Kelley is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Kelley of 216 Valentine st., West Newton.

Mrs. Gerard F. Sullivan of Petersburg, was the matron of honor. She wore a fuchsia gown with a matching hat and carried fuchsia colored chrysanthemums. Dr. Frederick Crayton Kelley was the best man and the ushers were (j.g.) Allen B. Fellows, Jr., Lt. (j.g.) Bernard McCreery, Lt. (j.g.) Lewis Loring, Lt. Christian Ewald, Lt. Clifford DuBois, and Lt. Joseph Mullin, all of Newport, R. I. Naval Cadet Paul J. Sullivan of Newton Centre and Gerard F. Sullivan of Camp Lee, Virginia.

Mrs. Kelley attended the Boston Academy of Notre Dame and was graduated from Regis College. Lt. Kelley was graduated from Harvard University and attended Babson Institute and the Naval Supply School at Philadelphia.

Lt. and Mrs. Kelley will live in Newport, Rhode Island, upon their return from a trip to Sea Island, Georgia.

WOODWARD—CRAWLEY

Saturday afternoon, November 7, in the Church of the Good Shepherd, Waban, Miss Lois Woodward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Woodward of 101 Alban rd., Waban, was married to Lt. Sherman Woodward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman M. Woodward of Rumford, Rhode Island. The Rev. Stanley W. Ellis performed the ceremony.

The bride wore an ivory satin and heirloom lace gown with a tulle veil caught to a coronet of lace and carried a white prayer book with streamers and garlands. Miss Charlotte A. Browne of New York, was the maid of honor. She was gowned in peacock green velvet with a matching headdress, and carried bronze chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Louis C. Krauthoff, of New York, and Miss Priscilla I. Taylor, of Newton Centre, wore similar gowns of gold velvet with matching headdresses and also carried bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums.

Charles J. Woodward, brother of the bride, was the best man and the ushers were Charles J. Woodward, 3rd, brother of the bride, Eric Woodward, of Cambridge, a cousin of the bride, Norman M. Appleyard, of Newton Highlands and Richard Boydton of West Newton.

Mrs. Woodward is a graduate of Smith College and Lt. Woodward attended the Moses Brown School and was graduated from Brown University. Lt. and Mrs. Woodward will make their home at Virginia Beach, Va.

Newtonville Woman's Club

"Hands Across the Equator," a talk by Mrs. Welthy Honsinger Fisher, will feature the program of the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday, November 17, at 2:30 p. m., at the Club House.

Mrs. Fisher has recently returned from four months of travel, studying and lecturing in South America. She represented the Pan-American League and contacted people of all classes. She is well qualified to bring a vivid present-day picture of that continent.

Mrs. Raymond A. Green, president, will preside at a short business session before the regular meeting of the Ways and Means Committee of the Newtonville Club will hold a Rummage Sale on Thursday, November 19, at 831 Washington st., Newtonville, starting at 9:30. A wide variety of "wearable clothes" and "usable household articles" will be on sale all day. Mrs. Harold McKusick, a member of the Ways and Means Committee, is in charge of the affair.

This is one of many activities which will take place during the year to raise the club budget.

Recent Events

Auburndale Woman's Club

A most interesting talk on India as it is today was given by Mrs. Welthy Honsinger Fisher at the Auburndale Woman's Club on Tuesday. Mrs. Fisher has visited Mr. and Mrs. Gandhi in their home and she described his life among his people and his own home life in a most charming manner. It was a pleasure to listen to Mrs. Fisher and many interesting questions were asked by the club members after the meeting and Mrs. Fisher was well able to answer them. The business meeting was conducted by the president and Mrs. Louis F. Billings the day chairman presented Mrs. Fisher. Mrs. Balch and her committee are busy with the bags for the Soldiers and Sailors at Christmas.

SLOET—PHELAN

Miss Margaret Anne Phelan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Phelan of Waltham, was married on Thursday, November 5, to John Jacob Sloet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Sloet of 220 Langley rd., Newton Centre. The double ring, candlelight ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles O. Farrar in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Newton Highlands, which was decorated with white chrysanthemums.

With her white satin gown, the bride wore a silk illusion veil draped from a Juliet cap of seed pearls and carried a bouquet of white lilies and stephanotis. Mrs. Clyde Brennan, of Sudbury, was the matron of honor. Her gown of peacock blue was fashioned with an embroidered lace top and a fail skirt. She wore a matching braided coronet and carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums and roses. Miss Nancy Sloet, sister of the groom, and Miss Barbara Bradford of Waltham, were the bridesmaids. Their gowns and headresses of American Beauty, were duplicates of those worn by the honor attendants, and they carried similar bouquets. Mrs. Phelan wore aqua crepe with an orchid corsage and Mrs. Sloet was gowned in blue crepe with an orchid corsage.

The best man was Clyde Brennan, of Sudbury, and the ushers were Mr. A. Phelan and William Phelan, brothers of the bride. Mrs. Sloet attended the Waltham High School and Mr. Sloet, who is in the United States Naval Reserve stationed at East Boston, attended Newton High School and Stockbridge School of Agriculture at Amherst. Mr. and Mrs. Sloet will live at 34 Crescent st., Waltham.

BROWNING—IRELAND

At the Second Church in Newton, West Newton, on Friday, November 6, Miss Priscilla Anne Ireland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Dunning Ireland of Wellesley Hills and Worcester, was married to Lt. (j.g.) Ralph Rushington Browning, Jr., of Washington, D. C. Lt. Browning is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rushington Browning of New Rochelle, New York. The 4:30 o'clock ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Boynton Merrill and was followed by a reception at the Wellesley Country Club.

With her gown of heavy ivory satin with a basque bodice outlined in seed pearl embroidery, the bride wore a full-length tulle veil caught to a cap of heirloom rose point lace and carried a bouquet combining yellow-throated white orchids and tuberoses. Her sister, Mrs. W. Paul Moorehead, 2d, of New Jersey, who was gowned in gold velvet with a matching halo headdress of ostrich tips and who carried chrysanthemums of yellow and mist shades served as her honor attendant. The bridesmaids, wearing similar gowns and headresses of emerald green with bouquets of yellow and gold chrysanthemums were Miss Mary Louise Ireland, sister of the bride, Miss Celeste Browning, sister of the groom, Mrs. Abbott Swift of West Newton, and Miss Louise Debevoise West of New Jersey. Mrs. Ireland wore a corsage of yellow orchids with her gown of aquilla blue and Mrs. Browning was gowned in black and her corsage was of orchids.

Fertilizer For Home Lawns

On September 15, 1942, the War Production Board issued an order prohibiting sale of mineral nitrogen as such, or in mixed fertilizer use on home lawns, golf course turf, parks, cemeteries, etc. Mineral nitrogen included ammonium sulphate and nitrate of soda. These are the materials used to furnish nitrogen in most commercial lawn and garden fertilizer mixtures.

Since organics were not included, home lawns, golf courses, and others will be compelled to rely upon them. That means sewage sludge, such as Milorganite; vegetable meals such as cottonseed, soybean, peanut meal, etc.; packinghouse products such as dried blood, animal tankage, and bone meal; dried animal manures, such as sheep, cow, stockyard, etc.

The W.P.B. order does not restrict the use of superphosphate or potash materials. These can be purchased as such, or in the form of mixtures, such as 0-20-20, 0-14-7, etc.

The fertilizer problem for lawns is an easy one to solve. On established lawns nitrogen is the key to good grass, phosphoric acid is of secondary importance, and potash is seldom needed. A good lawn fertilizer contains about twice as much nitrogen as phosphoric acid, and little or no potash. Dried sewage sludge, such as Milorganite, and the vegetable meals, such as cottonseed and soybean meal, meet these specifications perfectly. They should be applied at 3 to 5 pounds per 100 square feet in early spring and again in early fall.

On new lawns additional phosphoric acid is helpful to encourage initial root formation. It can be supplied by using steam bone meal or superphosphate. Either one alone is not a good lawn fertilizer. Seeding grass needs more nitrogen to promote leaf growth. The nitrogen deficiency can be corrected by using Milorganite or vegetable meal with either in the ratio suggested below for gardens (3 parts Milorganite or meal and 1 part bone meal or superphosphate). This mixture should be applied before seeding at 4 to 6 pounds per 100 square feet and worked into the surface soil. It will not prevent germination or burn young grass.

Milorganite and vegetable meals can be used on flower and vegetable gardens. Their chief drawback is low content of phosphoric acid and potash. An excellent garden fertilizer can be made by mixing 3 pounds Milorganite, or vegetable meal, with 1 pound steam bone meal or superphosphate. This mixture should be used during seedbed preparation at 2 to 4 pounds per 100 square feet, and should be followed by several light applications at intervals of 4 to 5 weeks.

Potash can be omitted on most gardens for the duration. In the few instances where it is needed, a little mixture of potash (50 or 60 per cent grade) can be added to the mixture suggested above; in the ratio of 1 pound potash to 10 pounds of the mixture. If obtainable, an 0-20-20 can be used in place of the bone meal or superphosphate suggested above. A mixture in the ratio of 3 pounds Milorganite or vegetable meal and 1 pound 0-20-20 produces an exceptionally fine flower and vegetable garden fertilizer, analyzing approximately 4-8-6. It should be used at the rate suggested above, namely, 2 to 5 pounds per 100 square feet before planting, and several times later at half that rate.

FOOD SUPPLIES DURING WAR TIME

(Note: The following guest editorial was written at the request of the Graphic, by Charles Sprague, manager of a well-known and long-established grocery concern located in Newton Centre).

Patriotic Americans everywhere are doing their share on the Home Front to support their men in the Armed Services. Those who have no sons in service are thinking now of their neighbors' boys and the common purpose which we share alike. Our Government knows the need of a strong civilian Home Front to bolster the morale of service men. Every one of us is the example and the mental picture of the Way of Life for which our boys are fighting.

The question, "What can I do that I may not already be doing," is frequently heard today. Possibly the answer can be found in a better understanding of some of the problems confronting us with increasing urgency each day. The Food Industry, for example, is striving to overcome many obstacles in the way of providing essential needs to civilians.

It should be remembered constantly that there is primary need to divert thousands of tons of foodstuffs to the Armed Forces both at home and at the four corners of the earth. Americans can be thankful that our servicemen are receiving the needed supplies to make them the best-fed army in history. There is no single morale-builder of greater importance than plenty of good food. We civilians are doing without some things to which we have been accustomed and we are able to get less of many other things. This kind of personal sacrifice is small compared to the tasks which our men and boys on the War Fronts are facing daily.

When you look at your grocer's shelves, you will notice many articles missing from his stocks. The more important need for these products elsewhere, the curtailed use of tin for canning, the revolutionary process of changing to glass containers, all result in present-day shortages. In addition, there are reduced imports of many articles and ingredients as well as the delayed transportation from the manufacturers of domestic products. You can help your grocer by understanding and accepting these limitations and delays.

Provident New Englanders have, for tens of years, placed orders during the autumn season for several months' supply of canned goods. This customary purchasing was never considered as hoarding, it was good planning and good providing. Today, you are not fully able to use this good judgment. Some grocers are facing this question by restricting the sale of their stocks to prevent depletion and to discourage possible hoarding. This is a patriotic and long-range policy to insure fair treatment to everyone. In most cases, these restrictions bring no hardships to the consumer because the limits set ordinarily cover at least a week's maximum requirements. You can help the War Effort by understanding and accepting these carefully considered limitations.

All newspapers have been editorially insistent on the conservation of gasoline and rubber tires. Your grocer, like yourself, must conform to government regulations as to tire mileage and speed limits. Frequent and small-size orders requested on short notice can more than offset economically planned schedules. The customer who anticipates the family needs so that a larger order is sent as one delivery shows both efficient planning and patriotic restraint. You can help your grocer to maintain good service, within the limits of regulations, by ordering less often and allowing him to deliver when his truck is in your vicinity. You can also help by ordering early in the week when the delivery loads are lighter than at the week-end.

A current phrase, "Man-Power Is Ammunition", has a very definite, purposeful meaning. The Food Industry, in common with all other non war-material industries, has made large contributions of its man-power to the Armed Services and to essential plants manufacturing implements of war. The resulting vacancies have been largely filled by women and there are some places that cannot be filled until our men return from war or war work. In effect, these changes release men for more important duties of our Fighting Forces and in the physically heavy work of war industries. Let no one mistake, or underestimate, the value of the service of women at this time. Employers have been first to appreciate their splendid contribution in a home community such as Newton. You can help by being patient with new saleswomen who are endeavoring to learn many new things in a short time.

These are some of the problems which beset the Food Industry and your local grocer. Our common thought, purpose and action is to overcome such difficulties through united effort. Better understanding and acceptance of some necessary sacrifices can help bring this about. We can then look at a more solid Home Front and feel rewarded in the accomplishment of increasing support to the men of our Armed Services as well as in a strengthened community spirit.

Behind the force of enemy planes,
There lies the force of enemy brains;
On the battle front he must be out-fought,
In the war of ideas he must be out-thought.

A nation that has no big idea is torn apart by a lot of little ideas.

Democracy will work if you do!

POLITICS

WITH COLOR

By F. W. C.

New York State Election

One of the most important by-products of the November 3rd election was the effect which Thomas E. Dewey's election, as Governor of New York, will have on the internal affairs of the Republican party. Let us consider for a moment the implications of this victory, which had been more or less discounted by shrewd political observers in both parties.

Prior to November 3rd, the leading candidate for the presidential nomination in the G. O. P. was unquestionably Wendell Willkie. Dewey, of course, was in the background, and so was Senator Taft of Ohio, possibly also Senator Vandenberg of Michigan. Willkie, however, attained not merely national, but international proportions and significance as a result of his extensive foreign pilgrimage. The repercussions of Willkie's tour were so extensive and so powerful, that the leading commentators throughout the country focused much of their attention on Wendell Willkie. The average reader of the newspapers doubtless was by all odds the outstanding Republican, and that nothing could stop him in the 1944 presidential sweepstakes.

Then along came Thomas E. Dewey, who had risen close to the peak of his career just before 1940, and who thereafter seemed to fade from view. He vacillated in his views on foreign policy and on the prosecution of the war which were not clear to many of us. However, his over-whelming victory over John J. Bennett, the Democrat, which put a stop to twenty years of democratic rule in New York State, immediately placed Dewey on a par at least with Wendell Willkie. New York State is almost as vital to the G. O. P. as it is to the democracy, and any man who can clean up to the tune of one-half million votes in this tremendous state must be given respectful consideration by all party leaders.

Let me make one point clear right now. Neither Wendell Willkie nor Thomas E. Dewey is particularly satisfactory to the typical old-guard Republican leader. Willkie, of course, was actually a Democrat until a very few years before he became a Republican nominee for president in 1940. Since that time, and more especially since Pearl Harbor, he has been altogether too friendly with F. D. R. to suit some of the stubborn, die-hard Republicans. Dewey, likewise, is by no means too satisfactory to the old-guard of the G. O. P. Early in 1940 the old guard was promoting either Taft or Vandenberg or some dark horse such as Governor James of Pennsylvania, or Governor Bricker of Ohio. Dewey was considered rather young, a bit too liberal, too impetuous, and very likely the type of politician who would not readily take orders from the party leaders.

Consequently, when the Willkie boom suddenly swept the convention, many people were secretly pleased that Dewey had been relegated to the side lines. And now these gentlemen must suddenly face once more the prospects of endorsing Dewey as their national leader. Dewey and Willkie hail from New York, although the latter's real home is in Indiana. The mere fact that Willkie endorsed Dewey for governor at the 11th hour should not be considered especially significant; he could hardly do less. My personal guess is that Willkie had his tongue in his cheek when he announced his support of Dewey. It will be interesting to note the relationship between these two leading Republicans during the coming year. Wouldn't it be curious if neither man obtained the 1944 presidential nomination?

"What's In A Name?"

It is in about time that we give some thought to the rather ridiculous results which confusion in names appears to cause. Nothing that I say here is to be construed in the slightest degree as a reflection on the connection of any particular candidate, either in this state or elsewhere. However, when you find that there are certain names which appeal to the voters, and that almost anyone who possesses one of those names is automatically favored with a splendid vote, you begin to wonder how this can be. However, as we would.

As you may have guessed, I am referring chiefly to the names Buckley and Hurley. Now, there is no particular reason why Francis X. Hurley, for example, should not be elected Treasurer of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in place of State Senator Laurence Curtis despite the rather general Republican sweep. It is not my purpose to argue which of these two men would make the best treasurer inasmuch as both men have excellent records of service to the state. The point I do wish to make is this. Thousands of voters obviously thought that the Hurley on the ballot was William E. Hurley, the present Republican incumbent. This is a fair statement, I believe, because there was another Hurley, Charles F. Hurley, who also held the office of state treasurer prior to his term as governor. In other words, the voters of the state have been in the habit of voting for someone named Hurley for over a decade; therefore, when they saw the name of another Hurley on the ballot this year many of them probably assumed it was the present treasurer. It is interesting to note that there have been other Hurleys, too, who have occupied important positions. There was Joseph L. Hurley, at one time Lieutenant-governor, and there have been other lesser lights, chiefly in the Democratic party.

The name Buckley is even more interesting to consider. The original Buckley was Thomas H. of Abington, who served several terms as state auditor. The first incident occurred in 1940 when an absolutely unknown dark-horse named Thomas J. Buckley defeated the Republican incumbent, Russell A. Wood by about 40,000 votes. As I recall it, it definitely was the most sensational election result in several decades of Massachusetts' politics. The democratic leaders themselves couldn't even find the winning Mr. Buckley, who was eventually located down on the Cape. What a relief this was to Thomas H. Buckley of Abington; what a reflection also on the limited intelligence of the average voter.

Incidentally, some of my readers may recall the incident some years ago in Nebraska when that venerable statesman, Senator George W. Norris, most unfortunately defeated for Congress on November 3, was confronted during an important campaign by a candidate of the same name who possessed neither ability, reputation, nor promise for the future. The distinguished Senator's friends were so fearful that the voters might make a mistake and vote for the political impostor, who was frankly trying to trade on the veteran senator's name, was simply strong-armed out of the picture.

Before leaving this topic, bear in mind the previous record of our capable Secretary of State, Frederic W. Cook, who has served in that office since 1921. Cook was opposed this year by another hopeful candidate named Buckley, whose first name was Joseph. I heard this man speak, and I heard him make the statement shortly before election that he had never held public office during the fifteen years he has been able to vote, and I was a bit puzzled as to why he felt that his qualifications were greater than those of our present secretary of state, who has actually been performing the duties of his office for a longer period than Mr. Buckley has been voting. However, the name Buckley has magic in it and Fred Cook, instead of leading the Republican ticket, was forced well down the line. As a matter of fact, the only Republican whom he led on the state ticket were the two who were defeated by the two Democrats, namely, Messrs. Curtis and Wood. Is not this further indication of the power of a popular name in politics?

Letters To The Editor

EXTENDS THANKS

Editor, Newton Graphic:

In behalf of the Conservation Division, the War Production Board and the New England Region, I want to thank you for the excellent job you have done in the Newspapers' Salvage Drive.

I think it was an outstanding success and, due largely to your efforts, there is no doubt that the newspapers did a magnificent job in getting out the scrap, and I know we will continue to work equally well together in the future.

GURTH F. CHAMBERS,
Regional Manager,
Conservation Division, War
Production Board

Editor, Newton Graphic:
Dear Sir:

My brother, who lives in Springfield, Mass., enclosed a clipping in a letter to me, which I am sending on to you. I thought you might like to print it, as it is a genuine tribute to Newton.

Sincerely yours,

NEW ROOTS COME EASY

Sometimes when a family with its roots deep in a particular city, thinks of pulling them up and implanting them in a new residence in another city, they shudder at the thought of what is in store for them when they are relocated. Will they like living elsewhere? Will they make new friends easily? Will the children be happy in new surroundings at a new school?

A Springfield family had all its answers when it moved to Newtonville a few months ago. Here is what the wife and mother of the family has to say.

"This town is just a grand place to live and the children love their new school. They go every day from 8:30 to 12 Tuesday through Friday and Thursday afternoons off, supposedly for further culture. They have music and dancing courses connected with the school for those afternoons and I understand the teachers are really first. I don't know for sure, but this winter, especially if it seems like to skate as she did with the Ice Birds.

"Our house is right around the corner from the school and the main street and only about four blocks from the railroad station. I use the train at the time and it's only about 15 minutes into town.

"I really like my house a lot now. When I first came the town sent me a Welcome Basket. Did you ever hear of such a thing? It was really a treat with just about everything in it. Fruit, milk, butter, dishes, pencils, vegetables, flowers, theater tickets, credit cards in lots of the stores—well just about everything but the kitchen sink! I was really quite thrilled. They invited me to a club for lunch on-bridges but I sure don't have the time now. Everybody is so friendly down this way and they seem to make you feel like you belong right away."

The roots are starting to spread by all reports from the former local family.

When it is zero outdoors and 70 degrees inside, the inner surface of a pane of window glass unsheltered by a storm sash goes down to freezing. After double glazing has been installed, the temperature of the inside glass is raised to about 60 degrees.

Men In Service

Ensign Charles H. Barker, SC, of the Navy Supply Corps Reserve, who resides at 24 Hazelton rd., Newton Centre, is one of 181 young officers who graduated on October 30, from the Navy Supply Corps School at Harvard University. Frank and Fred Dorr, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dorr of Kenrick st., are serving in the United States Army Air Forces. Fred, who joined about 6 weeks ago, has been made a corporal and is stationed at Maxwell Field. Frank is at present stationed at Atlantic City.

David W. Tibbott, Jr., son of Mrs. David W. Tibbott of 27 Trinity terrace, Newton Centre, was recently appointed a Naval Aviation Cadet and transferred to the Naval Air Station at Pensacola, Fla., for flight training. He graduated from Newton High School in 1939 and enlisted in September 1941.

Arthur Grenfell Allen of 28 Bowdoin st., Newton Highlands, has received his commission as second lieutenant in the Army Air Force, at the Ferry Command headquarters, Newcastle Army Air Base, Wilmington, Delaware. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie H. Allen of Newton Highlands. He was graduated from Newton High School in 1939 and enlisted in September 1941.

Naval Aviations Cadets Florin Joseph Hailer, Jr., of 665 Centre st., Newton, and James Alfred Brickett, Jr., of 25 North St., Newtonville, have been transferred to the Naval Air Station at Pensacola, Florida, after successfully completing their primary flight training at Squantum. They will now have three months of advanced flight training.

Cadet Heller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Florin J. Heller, was graduated from Boston College High School and later attended Bridgeport Academy in Maine where he was prominent in athletics. Cadet Brickett, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Brickett, was graduated from the Newton High School and attended Wesleyan University.

Col. Warren E. Davis, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Uram of 44 Woodward st., Waban, has been promoted to the grade of Sergeant. He has been a member of the Army Air Forces since January.

Donald H. Urquhart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth H. Urquhart, 38 Eldredge st., Newton, has been inducted as a Naval Aviation Cadet. He is a graduate of the Newton High School.

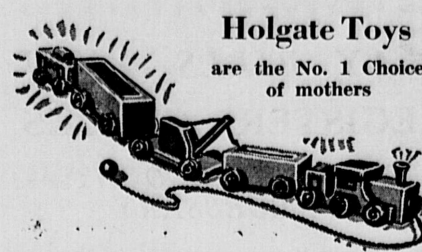

John Bradford Rockwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joel B. Rockwell of 72 Fairlee rd., Waban, was recently inducted as a Naval Aviation Cadet. He is a graduate of the Moses Brown School and a freshman at Dartmouth College.

Vernon M. Mattson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon M. Mattson of 26 Phillips lane, Newtonville, was recently inducted as a Naval Aviation Cadet. He attended Newton High School where he was awarded a letter in football, and also attended Northeastern University.

John J. Engel, 2nd, of 10 St. James st., Newton, and Allan D. Burgess of 47 Carleton st., Newton, lifelong friends, left Friday morning, Oct. 30, having enlisted in the United States Army Air Corps as specialists. They will be sent to Fort Devens and from there to a flying center somewhere in the South for several months of shooting and military training. Engel will be assigned to train in the Aircraft Armored Division and Burgess in the Aircraft Mechanics Division. Both boys graduated from Newton High School in June, 1941. Burgess has been a student of journalism at Boston University, and Engel, since graduating from Newton High, has been a member of the editorial staff of the Arthur C. Harvey Steel John Engel is the son of Mrs. Pearl R. Engel of 10 St. James st., and Allan Burgess is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis C. Burgess, 47 Carleton st., Newton. On Wednesday evening a party was given for John Engel at his home, attended by a gathering of relatives and friends.

Sergeant Franklin W. MacPhie of West Newton has been commissioned Second Lieutenant in the Anti-Aircraft Division at Camp Davis, Wilmington, No. Carolina. Lt. MacPhie entered the U. S. Army in February 1941 and was stationed at Ft. Devens until ordered to Camp Davis for training in the Anti-Aircraft Officers Training School.

He and Miss Barbara Preston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Deane Preston, Jr. of Waban, were married in Waban on November 3rd.

HOLABIRD ORDNANCE MOTOR BASE, Baltimore, Md., Nov. 4, 1942—The Ordnance Motor Transport School at the Holabird Ordnance Motor Base announced today that Corporal John E. Shaughnessy, son of Mr. William D. Shaughnessy of 63 Playstead rd., Newton, Mass., has enrolled in the specialist course known as Carburetion and Electrical Units, running for one month.

The courses at this base make each man a specialist in the Army's automotive work.

Cadet Winslow Beckwith of 4 Winthrop st., West Newton, has completed a three month preliminary course at the U. S. Navy Pre-Flight School at Chapel Hill, North Carolina, and has been transferred to the U. S. Naval Reserve Aviation Base at Squantum. He is a graduate of Newton High School and Boston University.

Brig. Gen. John M. Willis, camp commander, Camp Grant, Ill., announced recently that First Lieutenant Richard F. York, M. C., 65 Oak st., Newton Upper Falls, Massachusetts, has been assigned to the 28th Infantry Battalion at Camp Grant.

While enrolled in the Southeastern Army Air Forces Pre-Flight School (Pilot), Maxwell Field, Ala., Aviation Cadet William I. Stark, Jr., 51 Caroline park, Waban, Mass., was selected as a member of an experimental group now undergoing its primary flight training in the Central Instructors School here.

Cadet Stark will receive his entire flight training here, and is expected to complete the course in only eighteen weeks. Because the program proposes to train these men for instructor positions, and because the period of instruction has been greatly shortened, much care was taken to provide only the most competent teachers and the best material.

The cadets have already completed two weeks of study in the Primary School. Upon the completion of his training, Cadet Stark will be awarded his Silver Wings, an Army Air Forces Instructor's rating and a Second Lieutenantcy in the Army of the United States.

Following his enrollment in Bowdoin College, where he majored in Economics, Mr. Stark was employed as a machine operator. Mrs. Barbara T. Stark is present.

ly at home in Waban, and expects to join her husband upon the completion of his training.

Louis A. Picariello, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Picariello of 31 Jefferson st., Newton, has graduated from the Naval Training Station at Newport, R. I. He will be sent to a Navy trade or technical school for special instruction, a shore base or a ship of the fleet.

Picariello graduated from the Brighton High School and attended Northeastern University. He had been employed as an office clerk by the New England Transportation Company.

Picariello is ambitious to work for the rating of Petty Officer, Third Class.

William G. Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson of 46 Mullen Court, Newton Highlands, was recently promoted to sergeant in the Army Air Base, Hunter Field, Savannah, Georgia. Sgt. Thompson enlisted in the U. S. Army on January 7 and was promoted to corporal in May.

Warren Springer of High st., Newton Upper Falls, has been commissioned a 2nd lieutenant and will enter an Officers' Communication Course in the Field Artillery School at Fort Sill, New York, following a 10 day furlough at the home of his parents. Lieut. Springer was inducted into the service last February while serving as a member of the Newton Police Force.

Ensign C. Harvey Barker of 24 Hazelton rd., Newton Centre, has graduated from the Naval Officers' Training School in Cambridge. He is a graduate of Dartmouth College and Amos Tuck Business School and was a former employee of H. P. Hood & Sons.

Russell S. Fleming, 19, son of Mrs. Margaret B. Fleming of 288 Parker st., Waban, has been inducted as a Naval Aviation Cadet.

Thomas C. Swaim, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loring T. Swaim of 17 Lee rd., Chestnut Hill, has been inducted as a Naval Aviation Cadet. He is a graduate of the Rivers Country Day School.

Joseph Aloysius Rounke, 41, of 38 Falmouth rd., West Newton, who enlisted recently in the U. S. Navy Reserve as a Motor Machinist's Mate, Second class, had begun a period of recruit training in Great Lakes, Ill. here at the U. S. Naval Training Station.

Many First Aid Classes To Start

Mrs. Robert E. Dickerman, chairman of First Aid for the Newton Red Cross, is now enrolling people for classes which will start early in January. These classes are being organized because of the great demand by the general public for the Standard and Advanced First Aid Courses, and because Mrs. Dickerman and her committee wish to give as many Newton citizens as possible this vital training.

Mrs. Dickerman also announces that enrollments are being taken for a new Advanced First Aid Class which will begin on Monday, November 9, at 7:30 p. m., at the Chapter House, 21 Foster st., Newtonville.

Applications for the Standard and Advanced classes can be made by telephoning Lasell 6000.

Salvation Army Friends Are Loyal

Former donors and new friends of The Salvation Army are mailing and handing their 1942 donation in the Newton appeal to William M. Cahill, treasurer of the Newton Trust Company, at Newton Center and campaign treasurer. This is considered an excellent gesture by the sponsoring committee headed by State Representative Douglass B. Francis.

"We are seeking a goal of $6,000 in Newton. That will help us meet the needs of our war program to entertain the fighting forces of Uncle Sam when they are in Boston. It will give us needed help in meeting the increased costs of maintaining the units of service that give aid to many types of unfortunate folk, day and night," said William A. Nicol, public relations secretary of The Salvation Army.

Many Newton folk attended meetings held in honor of General and Mrs. George L. Carpenter, international heads of The Salvation Army, in Boston (Thursday, November 12).

KIWANIS ANNOUNCES RUBINOFF COMMITTEES

The committees in charge of the concert to be given at the High School by Rubinoff and his celebrated violin under auspices of the Kiwanis Club were announced on Tuesday. These committees are as follows:

General chairman, James B. Riggs; co-chairman, Raymond A. Green.

Tickets—Chairman, William A. Payne; George Van Buskirk, Wilfred Chagnon, Otis R. Heath, Percy Trundle.

Afternoon Concert—Chairman, Carlton W. Ray, Raymond A. Green, Walter Hood.

Finance—Chairman, Leo Noel; Edward J. Cannon, Dr. A. B. Norley, Benjamin Louis.

Publicity—Chairman, Edward J. Pease, co-chairman, C. J. Hutchings; J. W. Cable, Arthur Williams, Frank Lombardi, James Daley, A. C. Bellinger, Roy Edwards.

Reception—Chairman, A. C. Bellinger; Edward J. Pease, James B. Riggs, George Van Buskirk, Raymond A. Green, Mayor Paul A. Goddard.

Auditorium—Chairman, Walter Hood.

The club held its election of officers and directors Tuesday, Nov. 10. The officers and directors elected for the coming year are: President, James B. Riggs; vice-presidents, George Van Buskirk, Edward A. Hood; treasurer, Leo Noel; directors, Thomas H. Burns, J. W. Cable, Edward J. Cannon, William Jasset, Benjamin F. Louis, Dr. F. J. Martin, William H. Sullivan.

William Jasset, club member, delivered an interesting address on the Royal Air Force at the Y. M. C. A. Monday evening.

Next Monday the members of the club will unite with the Rotary Club, the Lions Club and the Chamber of Commerce at the get-together of Newton Service Clubs at the Braum Country Club.

Round table meeting for members only at the Vernon Court Hotel, Tuesday, Nov. 17.

The club is planning a special program in celebration of Thanksgiving Day.

The officers and directors met Monday night, Nov. 9.

It has been announced that Roy Edwards, Basley Lumber Co., has become a member of the committee on arrangements for the Rubinoff concert. One half of the profits realized from this concert will be given for the purchase of kits for the Newton men leaving in the service. Roy Edwards is chairman of Kits for Service Station Committee.

MacPHEE—PRESTON

Miss Barbara Preston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Deane Preston, Jr., of Waban was married Tuesday evening, November 3rd, at the Church of the Good Shepherd to Lt. Franklin Wardwell MacPhee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmore I. MacPhee of West Newton.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Stanley W. Ellis and was followed by a small reception at the Braum Country Club.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin with lace at neckline and fashioned with long sleeves and full skirt. Her tulle veil was caught to a cap of matching lace and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and bougainvillea.

The maid of honor was Miss Virginia Felton of Auburndale, who wore a gown of green faille and carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums of autumn colors.

Mr. Rodney MacPhee, brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man and the ushers were Lieutenant Leslie Burton and Mr. Warren Wilkinson.

After a short wedding trip Lt. and Mrs. MacPhee left for California, where he is to be stationed.

TO HOLD BAZAAR

A bazaar is to be held by the women of the Corpus Christi Parish in Auburndale on Friday and Saturday, November 13 and 14.

There will be a sale of fancy goods, home made preserves and home baked foods. On Saturday evening there will be a supper with a typical New England menu. Both the bazaar and the supper will be in the upper auditorium of the church.

Rev. George F. Smith is chairman of the committee; Mrs. John R. Foristall and Mrs. Thomas J. Noone are co-chairmen.

Storm windows block the cracks around single sash which permit wasteful leakage of heat.

instructed in properly preparing tin cans and fats for salvage.

Mrs. Goddard and Mrs. Kennedy are on duty at the door of the Report Center at every practice alert, night or day. Both have had Red Cross First-Aid training and have been trained as telephone operators for the Air Raid damage lines. Mrs. Kennedy has lectured to many Warden's Training Schools at the High School.

Barbara Goddard, whose husband is Paul M. Goddard, Newton's popular Mayor, was born in Newton, the daughter of Caroline Cooke and the late Dr. William P. Cooke. She attended public schools in Newton; Miss McClintock's School, Boston; Simmons College and the Erskine School, Boston. The Goddards' daughter, Barbara, aged 13, is in her second year at Weeks Junior High School.

Because of the many and varied activities of the Women's Division which occupy practically all the hours around the clock, not much of either Mrs. Goddard's or Mrs. Kennedy's time remains for other interests. Mrs. Goddard does find time, however, to be a member of the Newton Centre Women's Club, The League of Women Voters and the Newton Centre Garden Club. Mayor and Mrs. Goddard attend the First Congregational Church, Newton Centre.

Kathryn Kennedy was born in Boston and has lived in Newton for the past 17 years. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. James of Pine Ridge rd., Waban. Mrs. Kennedy received her elementary schooling in Boston. She graduated from Bradford Academy in 1921 and in 1925 she received her B.A. degree at Smith College.

Frank Brittain Kennedy, an investment banker, in 1926. The Kennedys have two children, Frank Brittain, Jr., who attends the Levi Warren Junior High School and Martha Burrage whose day-time address is the Angier School, Waban.

Mrs. Kennedy has been a member of the executive board of the Waban Woman's Club for seven years, holding various offices, and is at present Chairman of the Club's War and Defense Committee.

She is past president of the Newton Community Chest and Director of the New England Brotherhood Club. Both Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. Goddard are members of the Committee on Public Safety and attend the weekly meetings regularly. They also attend together the numerous meetings of the War Service Division in Boston.

The information they receive there is given to the 12 Village Chairmen and the 35 Vice Chairmen of the Women's Division.

At the present time the Women's Division is actively engaged as members of the Division. This does not include Women Air-Raid Wardens, those who are at the Warning Center or the hundreds of Red Cross workers.

The Women's Division (now known as "War Service" Division) embraces all kinds of activities. Here are some of the things that have been or are being accomplished by it:

Have set up First Aid Posts throughout the city for the Medical Division.

Tabulated and Classified results of the War Bond Pledge campaign. Corrected Air Raid Wardens examinations.

Distributed and collected service questionnaires for the state.

Distributed household bulletins for the Newton Committee on Public Safety.

Distributed leaflets for the Salvage Committee.

Provided workers to assist Rationing Board.

Maintain the 8 A. M. to 10 P. M. Duty Watch at the Report Center.

Have charge of telephone operators for the Air Raid Damage lines at the Report Center.

Organized the first Nursery Training Course for Defense in the State.

Staffed model report and Warning Center set up in West Newton 2 months before U. S. entered the war (E. S. J.).

Conducted the Nutrition Conference in December 1941, which was the beginning of the great interest in nutrition and canteen work in Newton.

For the many hours devoted to the important tasks of the Women's Division, for their excellent organizing ability and competence in getting things done, surely orchids should go to Mrs. Paul M. Goddard and Mrs. F. Brittain Kennedy.

MUSIC LOVER'S CLUB

The Music Lover's Club of Boston, Mrs. J. Arthur Snyder, president, presented the following artists in the first concert of the season on Tuesday, November 10, 11 a. m. at the New England Mutual Hall in Boston, Clarendon and Boylston sts. Sophie Jacynowicz, Pianist; Mary Saunders, soprano; Frances Omar Weeks, accompanist; Ann Very, violin.

Bouillon was served before the concert at 10:15, when members of the board acted as hostesses; Mrs. Ernest L. Nichols, Mrs. Gordon P. Luther, Mrs. Edwin W. Borden, Mrs. Percival Mott, Mrs. John W. Merrill, Mrs. George B. Wetherbee, Mrs. Leslie A. Russell, Miss Frances O. Weeks.

Also assisting were Mrs. A. M. Raddon and Mrs. S. R. MacKillop, Mrs. H. J. Elwell, Mrs. R. R. Jarvis.

Adjust Claims

A. Janse, decided that he could not afford to do the work for the latter price. The Street Department therefore invited 16 firms to bid on the contract, but only Janse and one other party submitted bids. Janse bid $55,000 and the other being $61,000. The contract will therefore be awarded to Janse. The old contract expired Oct. 1, but Janse agreed to carry on the work at the $44,000 price until the new contract could be awarded.

An appropriation for the Street Department of $4,000 for repair of sewers and $2,700 for the suppression of gypsy and browntail moths was granted by the Board. The moth work will be done next year, but the appropriation was desired immediately so that the arsenate of lead necessary for the project could be purchased while still available.

The retirement of Guisepe Grilla, employee of the Street Department, was authorized and the sum of $140.51 appropriated for his pension from Nov. 8 to the end of the year.

The sum of $150 was appropriated for a temporary telephone operator for the Public Buildings Department and $17 to reimburse the Department of Municipal Defense for an item of expense.

The recommendation of Mayor Paul M. Goddard for the appropriation of $1,460 for the installation of an automatic temperature control system at police headquarters was held by the finance committee for further study.

The sum of $150 was appropriated for settlement of a claim of Bertha P. Dine for damage to her property caused by a bursting water meter.

The names of the following were drawn for jury service: For criminal business, first session, Superior Court, Cambridge, Dec. 7, Harry T. Moller, 130 Lincoln st.; Thomas V. Marston, 75 Waban park, and Harold S. Wentworth, 556 Quinobequin rd. For civil business, Superior Court, Lowell, Dec. 7, Sidney O. Anderson, 151 Norwood ave.; Albert E. D. Brewer Eddy, who with Mrs. Ralph Conant are chairman of the committee, presided, and announced that a few changes had been made in the personnel of the group since they last met.

Miss Ethel Woodberry was the secretary; Mrs. Arthur Allen, the new chairman from Newton Centre to take the place of Mrs. Charles Bartlett and Mrs. Robert Thompson from the Newton Highlands committee, succeeding Mrs. James Dunphy.

The work of the shop was reported by its manager, Mrs. Francis H. Williams, who again urged the need of salable articles, especially clothing for children. A plea was also made for wools including knitted garments which could be knitted and used again as this is used for the knitting of mittens as well as other garments to be sold at the shop.

Bric-a-brac also is in demand and since the window display has been largely confined to this type of goods, it sells very quickly. The shop still has the use of the truck from the hospital each Wednesday morning, and any order phoned to Mrs. Raymond Perkins, Big 8123 by Tuesday noon, will be called for.

Among those at the luncheon were Mrs. Brewer Eddy, Mrs. Ralph Conant, Mrs. Francis Williams, Mrs. Robert Whitehill, Miss Louise Sherman from Newtonville, Mrs. Stirling Loveland, Mrs. Russell Burkhardt and Mrs. Mortimer Prescott from Newton, Miss Ethel Woodberry, West Newton; Mrs. Ernest F. Drew, Auburndale; Mrs. Elizabeth Crews and Mrs. Arthur Allen, Newton Centre; Mrs. Ernest Cobb, Newton Upper Falls, and Mrs. Edward Douglass, Waban.

Mrs. Charles B. Floyd, president of the Association, and Miss Mary C. Sawyer, a former vice-president, were guests of honor.

The last three Mondays of this month, the 16th, 23d and 30th will be Treasure Days at the Newton Hospital Aid Benefit Shop in Newtonville. On these dates the choice pieces of china, glass and silver, also dainty aprons, will be on display in the window. Treasures have been collected during the year for this annual sale, and each of the three Mondays will see new goods which will make most acceptable gifts for the holidays.

NEIGHBORHOOD CLUB

Mrs. Harold R. Keller is opening her home at 37 Sheldahl rd., Newtonville, for the next meeting of the Newton Centre Neighborhood Club on Monday evening, Nov. 16, at 7:45.

Miss Toni Lee and Miss Barbara Alden of Dana Hall School in Wellesley are entertaining with two short one-act plays.

The committee in charge of refreshments includes Mrs. S. J. Ten Broeck, chairman, and Mrs. Frederick Huss, Mrs. Herbert Dunphy and Miss Charlotte Pettinermert.

On Saturday evening, Nov. 14th, an adaptation of "Amazon Isle" will be presented by the Stage activities committee at the Waban Neighborhood Club House with Mr. Philip K. Brown as coach and director. Special numbers, including a dancing chorus have been added to round out this tuncful farce into a most complete evening's entertainment.

At Christmas time, we wish to contact all former members of the F. A. Day student body who are now in our armed forces. The Art Department makes an urgent appeal for the following information regarding these boys:

Full name, Home Address, Mailing Address.

Branch of Service, such as Army Air Force, Army Coast Guard, Navy, or Marines.

Particular line of service, such as Coast Artillery, Tank Corps, Submarine Service, Present Rating.

Previous Training in Service, such as Camps, Courses.

Pictures and clippings are constantly being collected for this service record. We would appreciate your cooperation, especially in the mailing address which we would like immediately.

The equivalent of seven parachutes has been raised by the sale of war bonds and stamps. Three more parachutes by November 12th is the quota determined by the student body.

Accidents Reported

Richard Brackett, 13, of 95 Atwood ave., Newtonville, who was practising on the horizontal bars at the Newton High School field, suffered a fractured wrist when he fell to the ground. He was taken to the Newton Hospital for treatment.

Mrs. James B. Watt, 75, of 9 Somerset rd., West Newton, was taken to the Newton Hospital Saturday night in the police ambulance suffering from injuries to her arm and shoulder received in a fall.

Sponsors For The Smith Lectures

A large group of women from the Newtons are on the list of sponsors for the Smith scholarship lecture on the 24th, when Miss Helen Kirkpatrick, distinguished journalist will speak in the New England Mutual Hall, Clarendon st., Boston. They include Mrs. Arthur T. Hertig of Newton Highlands who as vice-president of the Boston Smith Club which is sponsoring the affair for its scholarship fund, is active in arranging the program.

Other women from the vicinity interested in the event are Mrs. F. Brittain Kennedy of West Newton, Mrs. Roy Merchant of West Newton, Mrs. Philip Richardson of Newton Highlands, Mrs. Gordon Morrison of Waban, Mrs. John P. Sedgwick of Newton and Mrs. Quincy W. Wales of West Newton.

Miss Kirkpatrick, one of the first two women to be officially credited as a war correspondent by the United States Army, arrived in this country recently by clipper from the British Isles on her first visit home in three years. In London Hotels during the worst of the air raids there, on the cliffs of Dover, in Coventry and more recently in Northern Ireland with the American troops, Miss Kirkpatrick has written her dispatches and won a reputation as one of the most penetrating as well as most vivid American correspondents covering the war. For her lecture on the 24th, she has chosen the subject, "America and Britain; Allies in Arms."

ARNOLD C. BARKER

Chief of Auxiliary Fire Service
Newton Committee on Public Safety

Having always been keenly interested in fires and fire prevention, Mr. Barker was led by his hobby to his position on the Newton Committee on Public Safety. Well known as an ardent "spark," he has served for many years as a civilian aide to Chief Clarence W. Randlett of the Newton Fire Department, who appointed him as Chief of the Auxiliary Department.

In the summer of 1940 early plans were made for this group of fire fighters who have since been trained to assist and co-operate with the permanent men in case of emergency. There are now 167 active men and officers who have completed an intensive course, yet are still drilling regularly every other week for additional practice. Assistant Chief John L. Keating and Lt. Charles Kramp of the regular department are very proud of this auxiliary group which they have trained.

Of the ten companies formed, four have trailer pumps (capable of discharging 500 gallons per minute), one has a Ford Fire Engine, and the remaining five have trucks available as hose wagons. Each company is supplied with rubber coats and boots, steel helmets, 500 feet of 2 1/2-inch hose, and other fire-fighting equipment. In directing this group, Mr. Barker is ably assisted by his Assistant Chiefs, Dwight Colburn and Truman Brackett.

Mr. Barker was born in Newton and has always lived in our city. In 1927 he married Katharine Rising of Newton Centre, and their home is now at 76 Hyde ave. in Newton, with their three sons, Richard Arnold, 13; Walter Frederick, 11, and Stephen Faxon, 2. Mr. Barker's work in the Real Estate Department of the Newton Savings Bank has given him an exceptional knowledge of Newton homes and streets, a valuable asset for his position as Auxiliary Chief.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Barker are interested in civic affairs and particularly in work with young people. Mr. Barker has for many years been a Director of the Newton Y. M. C. A., and for ten years a member of the Troop Committee for Troop 11, Norumbega Council Boy Scouts, acting for two years as chairman. He has served as Trustee for Eliot Congregational Church, where the family attend, is a Past President of the Newton Safety Council, member of Daffodil Lodge, A. F. & A. M., and a member of the Pomroy Home.

Mrs. Barker is assisting in the war effort by teaching Canteen courses and serving as vice-chairman of Newton's Red Cross Canteen Corps. At the request of the chairman of the Women's Division, Mrs. Goddard and Mrs. Kennedy, she organized and presided at Newton's Nutrition Conference last December. She has served as chairman of the Women's Division, Newton Community Chest; President of the Women's Auxiliary to the Newton Y. M. C. A., and is now on the State Board of Women's Auxiliaries. At present she is adviser for the Newton Junior Community Club.

The Barkers' home is a meeting place for the neighborhood children, almost always a baseball or football game is going on in the yard. For relaxation, Mr. Barker likes to make things at his workbench with power tools or to do things with his sons and their young friends.

Preliminary Organization of Newton Residential Division to Be Monday

With the meeting of the Campaign leaders of Waban, Chestnut Hill, Newton Lower Falls, and Newton Upper Falls at the Waban Neighborhood Club Monday evening, Nov. 23, at 6:30, preliminary organization of the Newton Residential Division of the United War Fund will be completed.

Officer McGrath Leaves to Enter Naval Aviation

Jack McGrath, police motorcycle squad, left last week for service with Uncle Sam's naval flying forces, and the Corner's "Old Guard" turned out in full force the previous Monday evening in a spontaneous and friendly tribute to the graying warrior of the traffic division.

Veterans of Newton's highways and byways these past 20 years gathered, possibly the last, together of the old and original chapter of the town's Brotherhood of Owls. McGrath, better known as "The Tuna," and a leading authority on firearms, was readying to leave for Pensacola, Florida, where he will teach gunnery to the Navy's young Eagles, and the friendly farewell of his old cronies of the nighttime was genuine and one long to be remembered.

One of the Southland's best known chefs, Howard Wright, returned to prepare the "Tuna's" favorite "vittles"—southern fried chicken and all fixins. George Benham, manager of the Waldorf, snapped flashlight photos of veterans and their families. Thomas Desotell, Newton's Highway Division, conveyed the well wishes of the various city departments.

Meet To Formulate Publicity Plan

To formulate the publicity program for the coming United War Fund Campaign and to plan the series of posters which will direct public attention to the community welfare services performed by the fourteen Newton social agencies, the Public Relations Committees of the Newton Community Chest will meet tonight (Thursday) at the Chest's headquarters, 93 Union St., Newton Centre.

The group is truly representative of Newton's community leaders and social-agency officials. Heading the Newton Public Relations Division is David W. Tibbott, Chairman, with Richard W. Janney and Leighton T. Harris as Vice Chairmen.

Takes 30 Years for Post Card to Arrive

A souvenir post card which was sent by a Newton Highlands lady who was staying in the Northern part of Massachusetts to a friend at home in August 1922 was received in August of this year. The card was postmarked "Gardner, Aug. 29, 1922" and was received in good condition. Both the writer and the recipient are now over 80 years of age and are living at their same homes in Newton Highlands. They are wondering "Where O'Where did the post card go taking 30 years for a journey of less than 50 miles."

Education Real Need in Fight of Tuberculosis

At a recent Board Meeting of the District Nursing Association, Dr. Helen Pitman of the T. B. Clinic of the Massachusetts General Hospital stressed Education. In answer to a question "What can we, as a District Nursing Association, do to help in the fight of tuberculosis?" she said: "People must be educated to know that to have this disease is not a disgrace; that the disease, being contagious, should be taken in its early stages and can then be cured. Patients having it should have sanatorium treatment if possible. In an 80-year survey (from 1860-1939) the death rate dropped from 444 per 100,000 to 36 per 100,000 persons. It would be of tremendous value to have x-rays of all office workers, school teachers, hairdressers, nurses, foodhandlers and all others coming in direct contact with the public. The District Nurse plays an important part in that she is often the one who finds the person showing symptoms of the disease and can then make it possible for the patient to be examined. In the case of the patient being the breadwinner, she can help with arrangements for the family and thus assure further peace of mind to the patient. The Patch test for T. B. is used by this association in determining whether or not the babies over one year of age have been infected with the germ. The death rate is dropping, but we should never, for a minute, relax our efforts to stamp out this disease. The greatest efforts are being made right here in Newton by our District Nurses and it is up to us to help them so that they in turn can help those who are suffering."

Newton Scores 6-0 Win Over Waltham

Still Remains In The Unbeaten Class Although Tied Twice

Newton High's unbeaten but twice-tied football eleven put its usual fourth-period flourish to pin a 6-0 defeat on Waltham High last Saturday.

A short punt grounded on the Waltham 27-yard line set the stage for the scoring march which gave Newton its first victory over the Watch city eleven since 1937. Starting from the 27-yard line, Bob O'Connell gained four yards, Harold Martin picked up four and O'Connell added six, giving Newton a first down on the 13-yard line.

A pass from Dick Kiley to Phil Walsh gained eight more and Martin went across for the game-clinching touchdown on the next play. Waltham's only scoring threat came in the third period when George McInnis intercepted Kiley's pass and returned the ball to the Waltham 38. A forward from Mike Kouloupolos to Connie Erickson moved the ball to the Newton 37, but Waltham fumbled on the next play and Newton recovered.

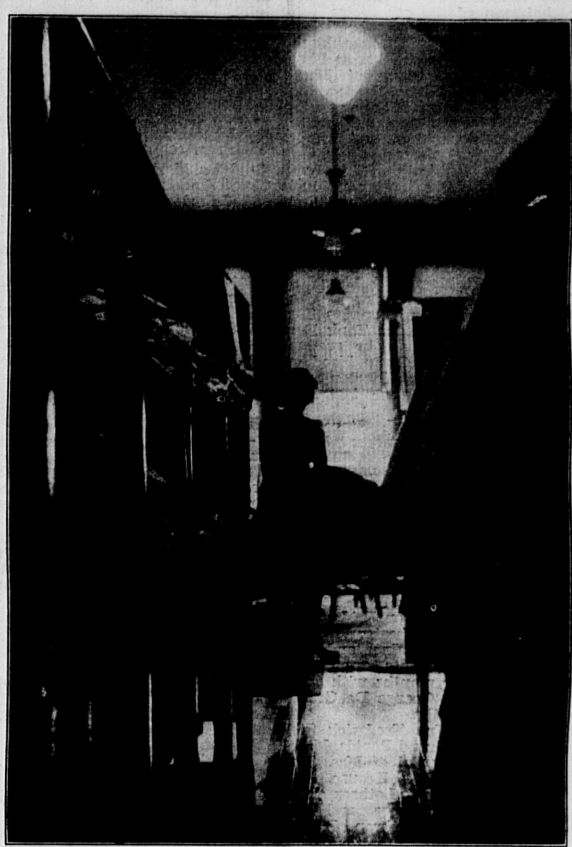

Newton passed up a scoring opportunity in the third period. Kiley recovered a fumble on the Waltham 15 and the Garden City boys drove goalward, making a first down on the Waltham line. Four cracks at the Waltham line, only two yards and the home team took over on downs.

Credit Union Has Annual Meeting

The annual meeting and banquet of the Newton Municipal Credit Union was held Monday evening in the F. A. Day Junior High School attended by 300 members and guests.

City Solicitor Joseph Bartlett represented Mayor Paul M. Goddard. President Philip Purcell read a letter from the Mayor expressing his regret at not being able to attend. Six acts of vaudeville were followed by dancing and singing. At a business meeting it was voted to declare a 5 per cent dividend on all shares and to establish a reserve fund. The following were elected to the Board of Directors: William H. Fitzgerald, John L. Foley, Francis Guerin, Paul L. Mullen, for 3 years; Ruth Prendergast, Rose F. Silverman and Nicholas Vecchio for 2 years and Charles Mitchell for 1 year.

Newton Thrift Center Moves To New And More Adequate Quarters for Needs

When the Newton Thrift Center accepted the extra assignment of cooperating with the Newton Disaster Committee, some months ago, it became obvious that its old quarters would no longer be sufficient. Whereas every citizen deeply hopes that the carefully-laid plans of the Red Cross in case of disaster due to bombing from the air or other military action will never have to be put into effect, there could be no hesitation on the part of any individual or organization asked to participate. But the Thrift Center's old quarters were barely sufficient for its multifarious duties.

A careful and rapid search turned up an attractive office at a desirable location, right in Newton sq., and through the generosity of Mr. Murray Marble of the R. C. Taylor Trust, it was made available to the Thrift Center. On August 25, Janet Mattson, the attractive and efficient young lady who is filling requisitions in the above picture, moved into the big pleasant room at 251 Washington St., Newton.

City Librarian Gives Interesting Talk to Lions Club

Self education is about the most important need of a person's life and is perhaps the most neglected by many, said Harold Wooster, City Librarian in his interesting talk last week before the Newton Lions Club. Two members of the Waltham Lions Club "Beef Trust" were present, Lincoln Frees and Calvin Brown. The former presented an invitation to the Newton Club, while the latter was made an "Honorary" Director of the Local Club. Another guest of importance was Clifford I. Champlin, treasurer of the West Newton Savings Bank.

Highlands Men's Club In Meeting

The second Dinner Meeting of the club was held the 17th at 6:30 P. M. at the Congregational Church Parish House. President Sidney H. Baylor presided. Everyone was vitally interested in the timely remarks of Mr. Wallace G. Strathern, nationally known authority on Sales Training. A second feature was the color movies of the Salmon Streams and Forests of Eastern Canada by Mr. Clifford R. Davis.

President Baylor announced the next meeting of the Executive Committee Tuesday, November 24, at 8:00 P. M. at the home of Membership Chairman, Joseph A. Spelman, 9 Aberdeen st.

A Proclamation by Mayor Goddard

As the Christmas Season approaches we are called upon to participate in the annual Christmas Seal Campaign. This gives us an opportunity to help in the nation-wide fight against the ravages of tuberculosis.

It is a direct appeal to us all, and one in which we may all share by the purchase of Christmas Seals. The results of our cooperative effort make it possible to carry on the continuing fight against this disease.

Let us all help by purchasing Christmas Seals this year, and by sending the message on each gift, and greeting cards that Newton is again participating in this most necessary work.

PAUL M. GODDARD, Mayor.
November 16, 1942.

Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, C. of C., Hold Joint Meeting

About 125 members attended the second annual joint meeting of Newton Service Clubs, sponsored by Newton Chamber of Commerce which was held at the Braeburn Country Club last Monday evening.

James C. Richdale, chairman of the New England Council's committee on liquid fuel supply, stated that only 50 per cent of the normal supply was being delivered to New England, though the rationing program calls for 66 2/3 per cent. He stated that if the winter is severe, real hardship may result, but on the other hand, a mild winter will help to alleviate the situation.

The speaker pointed out that New England uses 55 per cent of all the range oil consumed in the United States with Massachusetts itself using 45 per cent of the total amount. He denied that New England was not getting its fair share and said that, if anything, this section of the country was being treated better than the rest of the Eastern Seaboard. Mr. Richdale pointed out that all large users of fuel oil must convert to coal if possible and that some owners should convert if they are able to do so.

Mayor Paul M. Goddard headed the list of guests which included Rev. Ray A. Eusden of the Eliot Congregational Church, Edward J. Reese, president of the Newton Kiwanis, and James B. Riggs, president-elect; James P. Gallagher, international Kiwanis trustee; Matthew F. Ruane, president of Newton Rotary; Ralph S. E. Quinnett, president of the Newton Lions and Earl J. Arnold, secretary of Waltham Chamber of Commerce.

Wilfred Chagnon was chairman of the arrangement committee, which included representatives of all four organizations. C. Stanley, president of Newton Chamber of Commerce, introduced the guests.

Hospitality To Service Men Is Discussed

The further extension of Newton hospitality to our fighting men and coordinated community plans toward that end were the main subjects of the Fall dinner meeting of the Newton Community Council held Wednesday night at the Newton Centre Woman's Club.

The Rev. Richard P. McClintock, Vice Chairman, presided. Miss Elizabeth Deans, Program Chairman, was in charge of arrangements.

W. Duncan Russell, Executive Director of the USO-Greater Boston Soldiers and Sailors Committee, principal speaker, was introduced by Mrs. Robert R. Bishop, Chairman of Newton Speakers' Bureau of the 1943 United War Fund and member of the Community Council Program Committee.

Newton Banks Sold $180,900 Series E Bonds During October

Total For Ten Months Now Amounts To $2,286,275, a Splendid Achievement

By ROBERT V. SPENCER

The six banking institutions of the city of Newton sold $180,900 of "Series E" War Savings Bonds during the month of October, bringing their total sales of these bonds to $2,286,275 for the year to Oct. 31. Since the purchase price of these bonds is three-fourths maturity value, one-fourth the amount must be deducted in order to show actual cash invested.

These figures were obtained by the writer directly from the clerk in charge of war savings in each institution, all of whom cooperated very courteously in making the study possible. The subject was narrowed to this one series of bonds because they represent more accurately the progress of the sale of war savings securities to the general public through local agencies. The purchase of War Savings Stamps is misleading as a criterion because they are, or will be, eventually, converted into bonds. The banks do not keep a record of stamps sold because it would entail an endless amount of bookkeeping for no useful purpose.

Sales of the eleven Newton post offices, because the Boston Postal District does not keep its records by cities and towns, and because it would require several hours to assemble the figures for Newton, are not included. Since this was the case, the Newtonville post office was selected as average for the city. It reported that it had sold $4,273.50 in Series E bonds in September and $2,718.75 in October. It also reported that its sales of stamps was $800 higher in September than in October.

These figures are extremely interesting in consideration of the fact that the State of Massachusetts exceeded its October quota of $30,500 by $1,500,000. Incidentally, the state quota for November has been set at $30,850,000, of which amount Middlesex County has been assigned $3,484,200.

Since October being the 10th month, all that is necessary to do is to move the decimal point one digit to the left and you have the monthly average sales of E bonds or $228,627.50, showing last month's sales to have been over $47,000 below the ten months' average.

As to the reason for this interesting phenomenon, each one is entitled to his own interpretation, for from the data available there is no satisfactory explanation. Such data does not exist, because to arrive at a solution an actual canvass of every family in the city would be necessary in order to find out the amount invested during the month and why people had given the same, less or more than in previous months. The stamp sale drive stimulated by the Woman's Division of the Newton War Savings Committee in the schools undoubtedly had much to do with the drop in stamp sales at the Newtonville post office, but it could have had very little influence on the sale of bonds.

Your correspondent turned to the stepping-up of the payroll war savings deduction plan as offering at least a partial explanation. He uncovered some interesting facts, but found that he could not go far enough in this direction to secure data upon which anything more than a guess could be based. Newton has 42 businesses listed by the Chamber of Commerce. This includes all departments of the city government.

The industries, we all know, are mostly listed under the head of "small business." In all they employ about 6,000 men and women. Of this number but about 50 per cent of the men and 25 per cent of the women are Newton residents, and only nine of these businesses are listed as yet at the Federal Reserve Bank as having some systematic plan for payroll deduction. So local payroll deductions could not figure appreciably in the showing of bank bond purchases. In order to close this article with a bright note and to give well deserved public credit, this following news is added: The Lucinite Company of 459 Watertown st., Newtonville, has been awarded a "T" banner. This means that this company employing (a military secret) number of men and women has 90 per cent of its force, or over, pledging a weekly amount equal to 10 per cent of its gross payroll. The award was recently made by a representative of the Federal Treasury.

To Hold Eleventh Turkey Party

Newton Post 48, American Legion Band, will hold their eleventh annual Turkey Party next Tuesday evening, Nov. 24th, at the City Hall Cafeteria. Forty turkeys will be given away as prizes. A door prize consisting of a complete turkey dinner from soup to nuts will also be awarded.

These Legion Band Turkey parties have proven extremely popular in the Post and additional features promise to make this year's party more popular than ever.

Ross E. Dennison is in charge of arrangements.

Church Canvass Rally Dec. 4

The "success" stories of Newton's first United Church Canvass last year have turned an experiment in community action into a permanent formula for church fund raising on a nationwide scale. This year more than 100 communities, covering almost every state in the country have indicated their intention of holding united appeals this season.

Preparatory to Newton's second United Church Canvass to be conducted Sunday, Dec. 6, a rally of the 1000 United Church Canvassers from Newton's 30 churches is to be held on Friday evening, December 4. Arrangements for the rally are in the hands of Frederick S. Bacon of the Eliot Church in Newton.

PLAN CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE IN MEDFORD

A free public lecture on Christian Science will be given in the Old Medford High School Auditorium, Bradley rd., Medford, on Nov. 22, at 3:30 p.m., under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Medford, to which the residents of Newton are cordially invited.

This lecture will be delivered by Mrs. Louise Knight Wheatley Cook, C.S.B., member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

There's More Giving With Our Thanks This Year!

The duty of defending democracy is one of its privileges. This Thanksgiving we are proud to be able to take our part in civilian defense, in conservation, in buying War Bonds, in all-out effort toward Victory. But each of these things is not a gift but an investment in the future which will pay dividends in happiness.

THE PEOPLE OF NEWTON KNOW THE ANSWER

Report of a study of War Savings investment through local agencies, published in this week's Graphic, is puzzling, to say the least. Because of the close business integration of Newton with Boston and surrounding communities, no one is in a position to give a complete factual explanation. These things we do know: In any test of community spirit and patriotism where the people of the city could stand up and be counted, their performance has written an annal in Newton history in which they could take just pride.

The organization for promotion of War Savings is complete and efficient from Secretary Morgenthau's office down to our local Newton Committee. Educational publicity does not allow anyone to escape for a day from his sense of personal responsibility toward the financing of the war. Our banks, postoffices, schools and numerous other cooperating agencies make it easy for anyone wishing stamps or bonds to purchase them any time during business hours, six days in the week.

We also know that under the present system of financing the war by voluntary War Savings investment, the success of the effort lies with the people themselves. Under wise and energetic leadership, especially such as that provided by the Woman's Division of the Newton WSC, there is no reason to doubt that our people stand ready and eager to carry their full share of the sacrificial load necessary to the sound financing of this greatest of all wars which the United Nations are beginning to win.

Here we are in the midst of a war—
If we live as we do we may live no more.
If we've got the answer to human relations,
Let's give it to the United Nations.
For sure as fate, and as sure as sin,
We'll only survive if we're fit to win.

Don't let your brain-box become an ice-box. It's not meant for canned opinions.

POLITICS WITH COLOR

By P. W. C.

Our New Congressman

It was a bit surprising to learn that the recount of the recent election in the Tenth Congressional District failed to alter materially the original figures. The average Republican, and more especially the workers in the party, had assumed that Herter would have a very easy time defeating William A. Carey of Boston. Those on the inside knew that the Legislature, when it redistricted the State, carved out a strong Republican district. Many of us felt that a man as popular and capable as Chris Herter should win by at least seven or eight thousand votes, probably more than that. A victory by a meagre 3000 votes was very disconcerting to G. O. P. leaders.

There have been very few reasons advanced for Carey's remarkable showing. He did, to be sure, wage a strenuous campaign from start to finish and he made some damaging charges, a number of which were incorrect, even though he personally may not have known it. Herter, on the other hand, apparently waged a rather quiet campaign, and counted heavily on his influential friends throughout the district to pull him through without difficulty. The real trouble, however, probably traces back to the voluntary retirement of former Congressman George H. Tinkham. An analysis of the election results in the Boston Wards of our Congressional District will show that Herter was badly cut, even in strong Republican territory. This means that either Tinkham or his close friends, who may have been behind him, did a job they must have done. Do my readers realize that Herter built up a lead of substantially 15,000 votes in Newton and Brookline combined, and then proceeded to lose it but 3000 votes? In the lead in the Boston Wards, which included the powerful Back Bay, Wards 4 and 5? Of course, this act on Tinkham's part is understandable because he had doubtless been disgusted with himself for quitting under fire last summer, when it looked as though an isolationist could not possibly win a major election. Later on, when he discovered that men like Senator Brooks of Illinois and Congressman Hamilton Fish of New York had survived their primary tests, he was undoubtedly told by his intimates that he could continue to represent Massachusetts as long as he lived; don't forget, also, that the newly elected State Senator Charles J. Innes, who also lives in the Back Bay, is an important cog in the old Tinkham machine. Although this man has nothing like the power which his father, the late Charles H. Innes wielded, nevertheless he may have thrown a few brick-bats behind the scenes.

Before leaving this subject, I call my readers' attention to the November 16th issue of Time magazine. I quote, "Christian Archibald Herter, Back Bay Bostonian, sportsman, speaker of the Massachusetts Legislature, who replaces New Deal-hating, British-hating George Holden Tinkham, owner of the struggling issue of Congress. Paris-born, Harvard-educated, Republican Herter, 47, was attached to the U. S. Embassy in Berlin, one time assistant to Herbert Hoover. He also edited the Independent (1924-28), was co-founder and associate editor of the Sportsman (1927-36), lecture on international relations at Harvard. His hobbies: tennis, golf, duck shooting."

Joe Martin's Successor

The election of a successor to Congressman Joseph W. Martin of Attleboro, now retiring from the Chairmanship of the Republican National Committee, carries many implications with it. In the first place, the presidential election is only two years distant and the opposing elements in the G. O. P. will naturally be striving for control. In the second place, the Republican Party is now confronted with the problem of handling Wendell Willkie. It may not be entirely correct to suggest that the election of Martin's successor will result in a show down between Willkie's most ardent friends and those who have always been apathetic to him. We might, however, just as well face the facts and admit that the majority of the old-guard Republicans either disagree with him or are plainly jealous of him.

Right here, let me interpolate a thought which I gleaned from a New York correspondent, who has just written me as follows: "Watch for the big squabble among the Republicans in picking a new chairman to replace Martin. If it does not turn out to be a Willkie man, then watch out that Willkie doesn't run on the Democratic ticket with the backing of Jim Farley and other Democrats who do not come under the classification of starry-eyed New Dealers. You can be sure that the Democrats won't want to lose their share of the Spoils System in 1944. They just want to get it this year, and it could be complete in 1944, provided the Republicans don't bicker."

Frankly, that was a new idea to me. I had not visualized the idea that Willkie might conceivably return to the Democratic party. And I earnestly hope that this is not within the realm of possibility.

Local Republicans may have noticed the editorial boom in the Boston Herald for Sinclair Weeks as Martin's successor. It is a fair guess that some of Willkie's friends are behind this movement, for most of us realize that Willkie and Weeks are extremely close friends and have seen eye to eye politically ever since the Springs of 1940. Accordingly, if Weeks should be elected Chairman of the Republican National Committee, or if someone holding similar views should be elected, the obvious inference would be that the interventionists were in full charge of the G. O. P. machinery. On the other hand, should Schroeder of Illinois or some other isolationist become Chairman it would bode ill for Wendell Willkie, assuming that he has presidential aspirations.

Letters To The Editor

Mr. Philip Ahlin, Editor,
Newton Graphic,
Newton, Mass.

My dear Mr. Ahlin,

The Motor Corps of the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross is most grateful for the articles about their activities which bear such profitable fruit.

You may realize our gratefulness when you know what we are trying to do to safeguard the welfare of our Newton residents. Newton is so divided that the entire city is covered by six casualty stations. The Motor Corps has been asked to have at each station at least six drivers and stations wagons to be used as auxiliary ambulances. This would be impossible except for the splendid cooperation of the Newton residents who have permitted us the use of their wagons for "alerts" and possible disaster. In the past ten days we have had three wagons offered us, which can be directly traced to the Smith which you so kindly printed in the Graphic.

In order to have a complete disaster setup we are in need of three more wagons—one in Newton; one in Newtonville, and one in Newton Centre.

We appreciate your past help and ask your cooperation in a further appeal to Newton citizens for the loan of three more wagons for disaster purposes only.

Sincerely yours,

MRS. STANLEY STEADFAST,

MCSC-Captain.

State Official At DAR Chapter

Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R., Mrs. Holcombe J. Brown, regent, entertained recently at the Chapter House a group of noted guests from Massachusetts Chapters.

Mr. Frederick Glazier, State regent, spoke on National D. A. R. board meetings. Mrs. Herbert E. McQuestion, State vice-regent, told how the student loan fund was initiated as a part of the D. A. R. program for the education of youth. She stated that funds were available for boys or girls to the extent of $100 if they had completed successfully one year of college.

Mrs. Frank Leon Nason, executive registrar general, told her adventures as a quartermaster in the World War aboard a freighter carrying war supplies to the Mediterranean.

Miss Ethel Lane Hersey, honorary State regent, D. A. R., gave an historical account of the Hersey family in Hingham, Mass.

The regent, Mrs. Brown, read from the Norwegian-American newspaper Nordisk Tidende, an article, "We Do Not Forget," written by Mabel McNeil Hagen, a member of Lucy Jackson Chapter, in tribute to a gallant Norwegian woman, who at the risk of her life and freedom helped Norse boys escape to America in order that they might train and return to fight the Nazi invaders.

It was decided at the meeting to hold the annual Christmas sale at the regular December meeting on the second Monday of the month.

Members and guests of Lucy Jackson, D. A. R., stood in silent tribute to the memory of Miss Emily Jordan, who became a D. A. R. in 1914, and to Mrs. Harry H. Haskell, who has removed to California.

NEGRO PERIODICALS PUT IN NEWTON LIBRARIES

Dr. Mary A. Wilcox, chairman, Committee on Inter-Racial Relations of the Twentieth Century Association of Boston, realizing that white people should know what their Negro fellow citizens are thinking, has arranged to have their leading periodical, The Crisis, placed in the Newton libraries. Dr. Wilcox received the following letter from Governor Salt- onstall:

Dear Miss Wilcox:
It was most gratifying to learn that you have arranged to place "The Crisis" in the Newton libraries. In these times more than ever it is important that we should all follow with intelligent and helpful sympathy the progress of the Negro people to the fullest enjoyment of American citizenship.

I am proud to say that in all our wars men and women of Negro heritage have answered their country's call with high courage and devotion. Already our present crusade is being gloriously shared by their descendants.

Sincerely yours,
LEVERETT SALTONSTALL,
Governor of the Commonwealth

BUILDINGS AT SUMMER CAMPS ARE ENTERED

Isadore Zarakov of 300 Tappan st., Brookline, reported to the police on Saturday that one of the buildings of a summer day camp for boys which he conducts on Pine Ridge rd., Waban, had been entered sometime within the three previous days. Three six foot bows and arrows, phonograph records, metal ash trays, two molds, six baseballs and some saws had been taken.

A War Economy Message

from NEWTON LEAGUE of WOMEN VOTERS

"Eternal Vigilance Is the Price of Liberty"

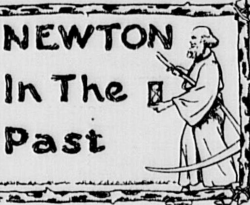

This is the first of a series of War Economy Messages, sponsored by the Newton League of Women Voters as a contribution to the National Defense-Victory program for elimination of waste, conservation of resources, efficient use of buying power and an understanding of business-consumer policies.

"COFFEE NERVES"

Boys are dead and dying, ships are sinking, families are being torn apart, cities destroyed, men and women sweating tears and blood to produce war materials . . . our very freedom is at stake . . . and what have some people been doing? Rushing around from store to store . . . cussing, griping, wasting precious time, spending precious energy, getting mad at fellow Americans—All for what? Well, for example, COFFEE!—or the inability to get it. What's going to happen when the real impact of war hits them? War has no place for "fair weather" patriotism. We must be able to "take it." Freedom-fighting Americans will recognize "coffee nerves" not as just the problem of the "corner grocer" but the concern of all of us.

We must see to it that public confidence in private business—in the American way of life, in our government—is not endangered by hoarding or other uneconomical practices or grumping at necessary war-time regulations or restrictions. Would each one of us give up our breakfast cup of coffee so that our soldiers might have the things they need? Sure we would! Well?

Newton Graphic, October 14, 1887

A party of young ladies and gentlemen from Newton Highlands took a moonlight ride on tricycles last Friday evening. A run of 12 miles was accomplished in two hours.

John F. Payne, who has been in the drug business in Newtonville for 17 years, will open a drug store in the new Associates' block.

The proceeds of the fair held by the St. Bernard's church for the purchase of the property adjoining the church, occupied as a parsonage, reached the sum of $3,000 in the first three weeks.

Next Friday evening the first social of the season will be held in the Unitarian Church, West Newton, at which time the improvements will be completed, and the building thrown open for inspection.

Newton Graphic, November 4, 1887

J. J. Johnson, of Newton, has 160 varieties of chrysanthemums, including all the prize varieties for the past 3 years.

The date appointed by Bishop Paddock for consecrating Grace Church is November 30. It is expected that the Rev. Dr. Phillips Brooks will deliver the sermon.

The taxes have been paid in about as largely as last year, in spite of the dearth of money. Treasurer Kendrick has disposed of the $65,000 in 4 per cent bonds at a satisfactory premium.

Hereafter the bell at the North Church, Nonantum, will strike the age of any person who dies in the village who is in any way connected with the church or congregation.

Mrs. Kate Douglas Wiggin, the author, was a guest last Wednesday of Mrs. Beverly K. Moore, of Old Elms, Newtonville.

The Newton High School football team opened the Junior interscholastic league season last Friday afternoon, by defeating the Waltham High school team by a score of 28 to 0.

W. J. Hallahan invites horse owners to his shop on Waltham st., West Newton, where he has a fine stock of blankets and stable goods, which he sells at very low prices. He is an experienced harness maker and carriage trimmer, and any work entrusted to him will be done in a satisfactory manner.

Mr. E. G. Chamberlain has revised the map of Echo Bridge and Upper Falls Gorge which he surveyed in 1879, and brought it down to the present year, and it gives visitors a very clear idea of the surroundings.

Newton Graphic, November 4, 1892

Mr. P. A. Murray, of Newton, has a patent for applying pneumatic rubber tires to carriages, putting them on over ordinary tires, and he has put them on to a number of carriages and they are giving great satisfaction. It is a great invention.

As one item, indicative of the interest of our people (Nonantum) in the Republican parade Monday, over 6000 lanterns were sold and used that evening, besides red fire and candles by the hundreds.

BRITISH SAILOR DIES OF INJURIES HERE

James Beardmore, a sailor in the British Navy, who had survived the torpedoing of two ships, died last Thursday at the Newton Hospital as the result of injuries received in a fall the previous Sunday while out walking with friends.

Beardmore, who had been a guest at a home in Newton Highlands, was a native of Lancaster, England. He is survived by his wife and two children.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The service on Thursday at First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Newton will include the reading of the Lesson Sermon for Thanksgiving as given in the Christian Science Quarterly, reading of the Thanksgiving Proclamation of the President of the United States, reading of Scriptural selections in keeping with the Thanksgiving season, and testimonies of healing and expressions of gratitude by the congregation.

FASTER

Cleansing and Laundry

SERVICE

at Lewandos' Newton Shops

We have been quite conscious of the need for faster cleansing and laundry service—at a time when our normal pickup and delivery service has been curtailed.

Now, however, we are in a position to assure you two to four days FASTER SERVICE—at no increase in prices—on all garments to be Lewandos-Cleaned and anything to be Lewandos-Laundered, if you will do just one thing:

LEAVE AND CALL FOR YOUR WORK AT

1253 Centre Street, Newton Centre
331 Walnut Street, Newtonville

This new policy, effective immediately, is a preferred service to those who help us save gasoline and tires in these critical times. While we know that many would be willing to pay more for faster service we would rather give it at no extra cost.

SAVE 2 to 4 DAYS TIME on garment cleansing or laundering by leaving your things at any of these Lewandos Shops today and saying, "I'll call for them."

ELIOT MEN'S CLUB SHOWN WAR MOTION PICTURES

At the November meeting of the Eliot Men's Club on Monday, members and friends were given a showing of motion pictures edited by the U. S. Government. Under the title "World At War," historic events from the time of the first World War to the commencement of the second war were displayed for the capacity audience, followed by scenes of the "Battle of Midway" and the "Invasion of France."

Films captured from the enemy were displayed under the title "Invasion of France" which were known to have been used for purposes of terrorizing neutral peoples by display of enemy might. Because of their authenticity, pictures shown by Lt. J. W. McQuiston, U. S. Navy, guest speaker, held the audience in close attention and gave the home folks news about the fighting life of their boys in the service.

At the supper meeting, personal word was received from Major Russell Broad, executive officer in the Army Air Force. Major Broad during his active membership in the club was largely responsible for the success in completing the new club rooms. Plans for the December activities include the regular Christmas party for children and are now volunteering in the various divisions of the Chapter.

Those who have qualified for certificates are Mrs. George N. Abbott, Mrs. Saul D. Abraham, Mrs. Quincy I. Abrams, Miss Priscilla L. Allen, Mrs. Arthur M. Bon, Mrs. Dorett R. Brouard, Mrs. Gordon W. Cameron, Mrs. Henry F. Cate, Jr., Mrs. Harold Jay Coleman, Mrs. C. Terry Collins, Mrs. E. Kent Dumon, Mrs. Israel Friedlander, Mrs. Louis Grandberg, Mrs. Russell W. Hitchcock, Mrs. A. ALL AIR MAIL PACKAGES MUST BE EXAMINED

Acting Postmaster John W. Gleavy today advised all postal patrons that it is now necessary to have all air mail packages or parcels including registered COD and insured (not air mail letters) examined at the postoffice by a postal employee before acceptance or dispatch in the mails. This examination of the contents is mandatory to make sure that no inflammable, explosive or other unmailable matter is enclosed. No sealed package, parcel or other sealed article (except letters in their ordinary form, or official matter) shall be accepted for transmission by air mail unless it bears on the address side thereof the name and address of the sender together with the endorsement, "Postmaster: This package may be opened for postal inspection if necessary."

Such an air mail package is to be opened and resealed by the mailer in the presence of a postal employee. After examination the package or parcel shall be endorsed by the postal employee to show air mail parcel has been examined.

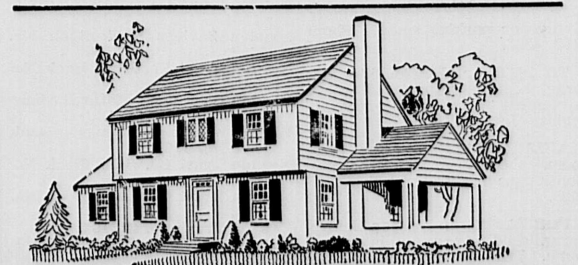

Air mail parcels or packages (not air mail letters) should not be deposited in street letter boxes unless they bear the endorsement authorizing the inspection of such packages. Failure to include this endorsement necessitates the holding of such packages wherein the senders will be notified to appear at the post office to authorize opening.

Air mail packages or parcels deposited in street letter boxes without the return address of the sender and without the endorsement authorizing examination, shall be dispatched via surface means regardless of the fact that air mail postage is affixed.

These regulations relating to the examination of air mail parcels or packages apply to such air mail pieces addressed within the limits of continental United States, Mexico, Central and South America, the West Indies and other islands within the Caribbean area, Alaska, Canada and Newfoundland. Air mail parcels or packages are prohibited for all other foreign countries. Only letters in their usual and ordinary form, weighing not in excess of two ounces, may be accepted (other than to countries noted above) as air mail for transmission to foreign countries and to Overseas Navy Post Offices and A. P. O.'s. No air mail parcels are accepted for transmission abroad except to the countries listed above and these are subject to examination.

HEAVENLY MORNING GLORY SEEDS FREE TO CLIENTS

Miss Doris Carley of the Carley Realty received so many favorable comments this summer about the heavenly blue morning glories on her office building that she has harvested the seeds and as long as the supply lasts, she is giving away small packages to any clients who may wish to call for them at her office 1171 Washington st., West Newton.

Expect Nearly 1,000 Workers To Aid United Church Canvass Dec. 6

All Church Members To Be Contacted For Purpose of Consolidating Budgets of Thirty Churches

While the rolls are not yet complete for the canvass committees of all the churches engaged in the United Church Canvass to take place Sunday afternoon Dec. 6, a large number have reported great progress and enthusiasm to date.

Thirty churches are taking part in the campaign, and it is expected that nearly 1000 workers will combine their efforts on Sunday, Dec. 6, in calling on members and friends of Newton churches. (Continued on page 6)

HAS YOUR BLOOD GONE TO WAR?

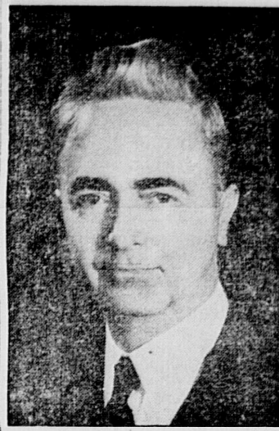

That is the question which the Red Cross is asking every Newton citizen. Hundreds in the community have already donated their blood to save the lives of fighting men on battle fronts all over the world. Many more wish to do so.

The American Red Cross has undertaken to collect 2,500,000 pints of blood for the United States Armed forces before July, 1943. Boston, alone, has set a goal of 3,000 pints a week. Every person in good health, and between the ages of 21 and 60 is eligible to give.

In order to facilitate this vital service, the Newton Red Cross has established a Blood Donor Registration Office under the direction of Mrs. C. Terry Collins. Mrs. Collins will be at the Chapter House, 21 Foster Street, Newtonville—telephone LA 5-6000—every Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 9 to 1, to give information and to make appointments for Newton donors at the Boston Blood Collection Center. If transportation is desired, groups of from eight to twelve donors will be taken to the Boston Center on Fridays by the Newton Motor Corps.

Will you give one pint of your blood and one hour of your time to help win this war—to save the life of a wounded American fighter? Make an appointment now, and join the ranks of the thousands who have given directly and literally of themselves for national defense.

Secretary of Lepers Mission To Speak Here

Mr. Edward R. Broad, New England Secretary of the American Mission to Lepers, will speak to the members of the Women's Union of the First Baptist Church in Newton Centre on Tuesday, December 1 at a luncheon meeting beginning at 12:30 o'clock.

Telling of the world-wide healing and educational work of the American Mission to Lepers, Mr. Broad will use as his subject "Did You Ever...?" He has visited our national leprosy hospital at Carville, Louisiana where there are about four hundred patients at the present time. Mr. Broad is a native of Newton Centre, residing at 21 Elmore st.

The American Mission to Lepers despite the war is still reaching eighty of their one hundred stations scattered throughout twenty nine different countries. These are in Africa, Arabia, India, Iran, Palestine, Free China and South America. Because millions of our soldier boys are invading these countries where leprosy is prevalent, it is doubly important that the work of the Mission be carried on in cooperation with the Government to educate the public and continue stamping out this dread disease.

An outstanding part of the program will be the presentation of a motion picture in technicolor entitled "The Healing of M'Vondo," a story picture telling the life of a little African boy in a leper colony.

Appoints James B. Melcher

Mayor Paul M. Goddard announced Wednesday that James B. Melcher has been appointed assistant chairman of the Newton War Savings Committee. Mr. George W. Sweet is chairman of the committee.

Nursing Class to Start Dec. 2

Mrs. Charles J. A. Wilson, chairman of Home Nursing for the Newton Red Cross, announces a new home nursing class to start Wednesday, Dec. 2, 9:30 to 11:30, which will meet for 12 succeeding Wednesday mornings. The class will be held at the Chapter House, 21 Foster st., Newtonville. Enrollment can be made by telephone, LA 5-6000, every day from 9:30 to 4:00.

Asks 8 Per Cent Bonus For City Employees

Mayor Goddard Recommends This Action Due to Increased Cost of Living; Not to Be Construed Salary Increases

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night Mayor Paul M. Goddard recommended a bonus of 8 per cent of their pay for city employees, which he stated is warranted by the increased cost of living. It would be paid to the approximately 1500 employees of the city in monthly installments, and the mayor's recommendation provides that no employee shall receive a bonus of more than $250 and that married men shall receive at least $200. The bonus is not to be considered as an increase in salaries.

The board referred the matter to the finance committee who will consider it at a special meeting next Monday. All members of the Board were invited to attend this meeting and take part in the discussion.

The board appropriated $1,460 for the installation of an automatic temperature control system at Newton Police headquarters as a fuel conservation measure. The proposed system will provide for the installation of 15 thermostats in the building which will make it possible to regulate the heat in each room and office individually, whereas at the present time in order to bring heat to some of the rooms it is necessary to overheat other rooms in the building.

On a petition of several Newtonville residents who sought relief from noise resulting from the voices of nightworkers in a plant on Washington st., the board voted "no action possible." Alderman George Rawson of the Claims and Rules committee explained that the aldermen had no jurisdiction in the matter and said it had been referred to the police for action.

The application of the Milliken Machine Company at West Newton for a permit to construct a two story addition to their building was granted with the requirement that no work be done at the plant on Sundays or Christmas and that "no more noise than at present" shall come from the factory.

The petition of Paula B. Ransom for a permit to conduct a nursery school for not more than 10 children on the first floor of the dwelling at 53 Kingswood rd., Auburndale in a single residence "C" district was granted. There were no objections at the hearing held on the matter.

The board voted to appropriate the sum of $1,100 for the settlement of the claim of Miss Mary Champlin of Waban for personal injuries suffered in a fall on the sidewalk on Collins rd., Waban. Other appropriations voted by the Board were:

Health Department, maintenance of automobiles, $160; new automobile, $675.

Law Department, settlement of payment to R. C. Taylor estate for rental of land used by the city as a parking space at Newton Center. Law Department, settlement of claim of Anthony V. Maria for personal injuries caused by fall on sidewalk, $600.

Public Welfare Department, old age assistance, $3,000; aid to dependent children, $2,000.

Street Department, care of stables $5,000; widening of Langley road, Newton Centre, $600.

Vice President Joseph Jamieson, chairman of the Public Works committee explained that the cost of hiring horses for snow removal has increased from $130 per day to $225 for each horse. The city will hire 60 horses for the winter months.

Chairman Carl Schipper of the Finance committee in speaking of the appropriation for public welfare estimated that the department would turn back to the city treasury more than $50,000 in unexpended funds from the general relief account because of the drop in the number of relief cases.

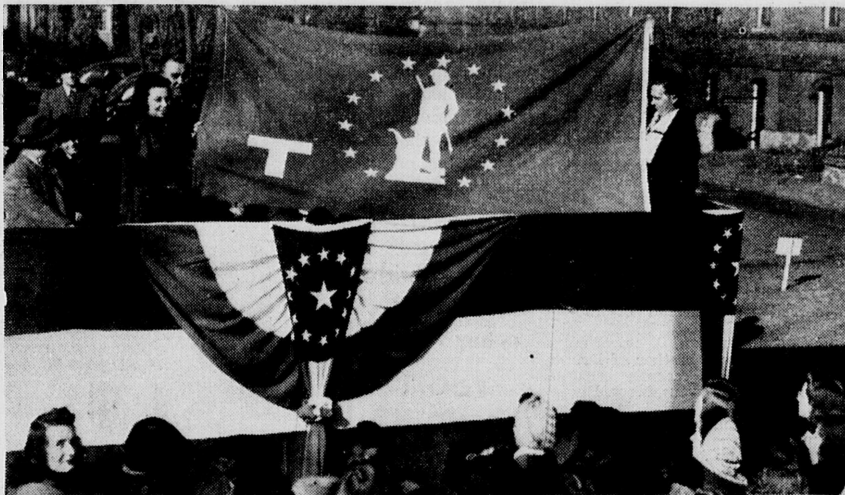

A hearing was held on the petition of the Boston Edison Company for a pole location on Webster Park in West Newton. A favorable report was granted on the application of Albert Hurwitz of 29 Mayflower road, Chestnut Hill for a certificate of incorporation for the J. W. V. Army and Navy Club, Inc.

A notice was received by the Board from the State Department of Public Utilities that a war emergency certificate had been granted the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Company to operate buses on Bridge street, from Watertown street to California street, Newton, to provide service for war workers.

The petition of Paul R. Tucker of 41 Berkely street, West Newton for an auctioneer's license was granted.

MINUTE MAN FLAG PRESENTED UCINITE CO. BY TREASURY DEPARTMENT

In the presence of the 750 employees of the concern gathered on the grounds of the plant, a Minute Man flag was awarded to the Ucinite Company, 495 Watertown st., Newton, at noon Monday in recognition of the 100 per cent enrollment of the employees in the pay roll pledge of 10 per cent of their pay to purchase War Bonds.

The 750 employees of the concern who were gathered on the grounds were congratulated on their attainment by Mayor Paul M. Goddard. Other speakers were Ex-Mayor Sinclair Weeks, chairman of the board of directors of the United Carr Fastener Company, of which the Ucinite Company is a subsidiary, and Arthur W. Kimball, president of the United Carr Fastener Company.

The presentation was made by Paul Tierney, a representative of the Treasury Department, and the flag was received in behalf of the employees by Paul E. Hobart and Mary Joyce, the oldest employees in point of service. The speakers were introduced by Thaddeus L. Harrington, personnel director at the plant.

The flag awarded the plant is inscribed with the letter "T" on the lower right hand corner to denote "Total Enrollment."

Report Shows Christian Science Church Has Over 1500 War Relief Units

The Christian Science War Relief Committee of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, which was established in September, 1940, has recently released its second annual report. This shows that it now has more than 1500 branch units active in the United States of America besides many more in Great Britain, Canada, Australia, and the Union of South Africa.

The committee has assembled since Pearl Harbor over 66,000 pounds of durable clothing and bedding, in waterproof, mothproof wooden cases, at convenient locations on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, ready for instant use should emergencies arise because of local enemy action.

More than 32,800 garments have been distributed, through military distribution centers, to men in the United States forces. A large British transport vessel which had arrived from tropical waters and was being repaired at Boston received 100 overcoats for officers. Folding coats have been given to overcrowded seamen's clubs. Civilians arriving in the United States suffering because of war conditions or action have been provided with clothing and other forms of relief.

Among them are refugees from the Far East, who landed in California; and merchant seamen rescued from ships torpedoed along the Atlantic coast have already been similarly cared for. This work is carried on by the Committee without regard to creed or race.

One of the most impressive branches of the work from the start, before America entered the war, has been the distribution of clothing and comforts to bombed-out people in Great Britain and to refugees from Holland, Norway, Russia, Poland, Belgium, and other European countries. Clothing has gone direct from Boston to Russia, and knitted goods have been sent there from branches of the Committee in England. One example is the preparation, within six weeks, of 1820 knitted garments for the Russians. Overseas workers have won the commendation and co-operation of local authorities for their prompt arrival on the scene of trouble. In cities heavily bombed, such as Plymouth, Coventry, Bristol, and Southampton, they have got there with food and clothing, ready to go to work, even before the "All Clear" sounded.

The wide range of the distribution is indicated in the annual report from the United Kingdom. One worker reports that an English physician, "totally bombed," was fitted out with suitable professional clothing by the almoner. A Scottish centre states that Commandos who at one time raided the Norwegian islands were equipped on the expedition with comforts from Boston, and that the centre provided clothing for the refugees whom the Commandos brought back.

Throughout the entire Christian Science movement workers are making and collecting clothing of all kinds and sending it to the depots, where it is carefully inspected, sorted and packed in waterproof cases for shipment. One of the most recent of the Committee's activities has been the sending of weekly packages to British prisoners of war in Germany and Italy. This can be done according to the Geneva Convention. Only an occasional package has gone astray. Correspondence has been started with many of the prisoners and with their families in England. Some packages have been sent to civilians in Occupied France. It has not been possible to reach prisoners in the Far East.

Figures presented for the two-year period ending the first of October, this year, include over 1,600,000 pounds of clothing and bedding sent to the British Isles, more than 8,700 pounds to Russia, and more than 10,500 pounds to Finland, previous to that country's alliance with the Axis.

The yearly shipment to England from the Boston depot alone has totaled between 4,000 and 5,000 garments, each containing about 200 packages. The loss in shipping has been negligible. During the first year of the committee's operation at least 30,000 people in Great Britain received clothing, food or other comforts, and about 240 were assisted financially. In addition to shipments from the four depots in the States—at Boston, New York, Los Angeles and Portland, Oregon—crates have gone forth from Christian Science workers in Canada, Australia, and South Africa. In Great Britain (Continued on page 6)

Boston University Choral Art Society Which Will Give A Concert For The Newton Highlands Woman's Club December 1st

NEWTON HIGHLANDS WOMAN'S CLUB TO SPONSOR A VICTORY CONCERT

Victory through Singing Hearts will be the theme of the Boston University Choral Art Society's Concert before the Newton Highlands Woman's Club at the Parish House of the Congregational Church, Tuesday afternoon, December 1.

These thirty-six singers come from five schools of the University and are representative of the following countries: Armenia, Austria, Denmark, England, Finland, Germany, Ireland, Italy, Lithuania, and Scotland. The program will feature music from the Allied nations and peoples—Hebrew, Russian, French and English, also solo arias from the operas, Faust, the Marriage of Figaro, and the Fortunate Teller. To celebrate adequately the news recently cabled from the Far East that a former President of the Choral Art did not go to his death in the sinking of the Houston in Java Sea, but was rescued and is at present a prisoner of the Japs and in good health, his comrades will sing a Christmas Carol from Spain with the accompaniment of eighteen tambourines and a full complement of castanets. The finale will be America the Beautiful with a super soprano part on the climax. Among the artists taking part will be Dorothy MacNeil of Roslindale, Anne Farrell of East Boston, Sally Thurman of Melrose, Lydia Romano of Providence, Dorothy Kimball of Belmont, Catherine Iconis of Somerville, Richard Preston of Everett, Louis Singel of Roxbury, and Donald Sullivan of Arlington.

Mrs. H. Augustine Smith, President of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, whose husband is founder and conductor of Choral Art, and Mrs. Robert Austin, Program chairman, will welcome the singers.

In the Art Corner will be Christmas "Still Life" pictures by Mr. Harold Pollock.

Tea will be served by the Social Committee, Mrs. Robert R. Buchanan, Chairman, assisted by Mrs. J. Gilbert Aldinger, Mrs. George Barker, Miss Helen Inez, David, Mrs. John R. Coffin, Mrs. Alfred F. Half the world is on our Christmas List

The perfect gift. Why not use your Christmas savings to buy War Bonds! Whether you buy them for yourself or those near and dear to you, you will know that you have bought more than a remembrance for just one person. It will be a gift to half the world!

What are you giving?
When you get your Christmas Savings check you'll probably wonder what gift you'll flatter those on your list. But while thinking of them, it might be well to think of this: Every tenth person in the conquered countries is doomed to die this Winter — of starvation.

Use your Christmas Savings to buy War Bonds

FOOLISH SPENDING IS TREASON!

Church Canvass

The purpose of the United Church Canvass is to consolidate the annual budget raising canvass of the thirty churches as far as date, general announcements, enthusiasm and common cause of the church is concerned. Now if ever, in a world at war and the United Nations working toward a better world for all, a strong front and a solid one on the part of the church is necessary. Working together in this way engineers a comradeship and realization of common purposes.

The United Church Canvass in no way keeps the individual church from conducting its canvass in the usual manner and with the usual meetings, printed materials and methods.

The financial chairman who head up the canvassers in each of the Newton churches are: Ralph F. Bass, John Berquist, Everett M. Brooks, Ronald Cording, Kenneth Eldridge, Ralph B. Emery, Wyman Fiske, John J. Fogg, Cecil Gibbs, Basil F. Hawkins, Alfred Haywood, T. Edison Jewell, Jr., Francis Jones, F. Brittain Kennedy, Frank E. Morris, Samuel F. Oldfield, George W. Palmer, III, Edward J. Pease, M. I. Stone, Theodor B. Walker, W. B. Warren, John T. Weston, Ralph D. Weston, Kendall A. Woodrough, and Richard H. Wright.

The United Church Canvass Executive Committee, of which Edmund S. Whitten is chairman, has decided that since the press and radio on behalf of the Federation of Churches of America and the United Church Canvass Committees, both national and local, have created so much enthusiasm for the Newton Canvass and some churches had already planned separate meetings of their canvassers that the general rally of all the canvassers in Newton originally planned for Dec. 4 will not be held.

"Keep Them Ringing" posters were erected on Newton church grounds last week and the progress in all plans points towards a successful canvass on Sunday, Dec. 6.

Reported Missing, Found Alive

Master Sergeant Charles W. Chambers, Jr., of 22 Oak St., Newton Upper Falls, a flyer in the Marine Corps, who was reported "Missing in Action" about four weeks ago has turned up unharmed according to a wire received from the Navy Department by his mother.

Chambers, who has been in the Marine Corps for 22 years, was once before reported as missing twelve years ago when an entire flight squadron of which he was a member was forced down at San Diego while operating from the carrier Lexington, and were missing for three days.

Christian Science

—Dr. Harry Hanson, just returned from India, will be the guest speaker at 10:45 a. m. Sunday at the First Methodist Church. Rev. W. Henry Shillington will speak from the topic "Horizons" at 7 p. m.

Rev. George Dollar, pastor, will speak Sunday at the Second Baptist Church.

Mrs. Walter D. Pratt of 125 High St. has appealed for more knitters for the Red Cross assignment for Upper Falls. Wool is furnished free at her home with directions for knitting sweaters, helmets and gloves.

Double glazing of a home's window areas is essential with winter air conditioning if the owners are to enjoy the benefits of beautiful humidification without excessive condensation in extreme weather.

Commander Francis P. Frazier and Adjutant John W. Girroir of Newton Post 48, American Legion, conversing with Major Harry W. Bacon, in charge of recruiting in Boston for U. S. Marine Corps.

200 Attend Legion Tribute to Marines

More than 200 persons attended "Marine Corps" night, Newton Post, American Legion's tribute to the 167th anniversary of the Corps, last Thursday night at War Memorial Building, Newton Centre.

The program included talks by Marine officers, Marine motion pictures, a band concert and a sharpshooting exhibition. Guests included commanders of veteran organizations in Newton and Alderman Charles B. Floyd, representing Mayor Goddard.

Maj. Harry W. Bacon, officer in charge of Marine recruiting in Greater Boston, was the principal speaker and sketched the possibilities for advancement in the Marines. He told of the need for recruits with experience in photography, typing, stenography, lithography and motion picture machine operating.

Sgt. Hy Hurwitz of the Marines presented two Marine pictures to Commander Francis P. Frazier for the Post and two pictures to Alderman Floyd for the mayor.

Among others present were Major Bisson and Captain Eric W. Oerholm of the Marines, and Mildred B. Ely, former adjutant of the Newton Post, who was a Marineette in the first World War.

Patrolman David T. Dalton, Newton Police Department instructor in firearms and holder of the New England pistol championship, talked on small arms and the Thompson sub-machine gun and gave an exhibition of shooting.

The Newton Post Band, in charge of Manager Ross E. Denison, gave a concert and director J. Collins Linco sang the "Marine Hymn." The Newton Legion Guards, under the direction of Lieut. Ernest Caver, acted as escorts. Moving pictures shown were "Marines in Action," "Soldiers of the Sea" and "The World's Fair Marines."

Assisting Commander Frazier with arrangements was the following committee: John W. Girroir, chairman; Albert K. Reid, Charles E. Coogan, Carlton W. Ray, Francis W. Muther, Edward V. Nolan, John B. Foley, Wallace L. Cox, Wilson C. Colvin, Bernard L. Gorkin, John J. Bendersgas, William R. McCarthy, Winfield C. Anderson, Edward J. Cannon, Dennis M. Cronin, Charles Gillette, William H. Garvin, William Leslie J. Shea, Peter M. Fitzsimmons, Clarence M. Hosmer, William N. Norse, William A. Davidson, Dr. Francis J. Martin, Paul M. Garden, Ross E. Denison and Elliot T. Hutchinson.
